CHRISTMAS CUT-UPS

Imagination run riot has resulted in some weird and wonderful costumes for the Victoria Girls' Drill Team's 20th annual Christmas Fantasy at the

RUSS SAY IT COULD BE

If Russ Rocket in B.C. We Can't Find It Yet

Russia today made a formal claim that the remnants of the Sputnik I first stage rocket fell over Alaska or northern British Columbia, but if it did no one in authority here or in the United States knows about it.

Nor is there any confirmation that any fragments of it have been located.

A spokesman for the RCN Pacific Command said here today no reports of finding rocket remnants had been received.

"If it had been located, we would have been notified," he said.

An army spokesman in Vancouver confirmed the naval statement.

POSSIBLE, SAYS EXPERT

Edward Argyle, electronic expert on the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, said it was possible that the rocket could have fallen in northern B.C. "But there is no physical evidence of it," he said.

A London report from Reuters today states the Russian news agency Tass says the carrier rocket fell "on the territory of Alaska and on the western coast of North America."

The agency, in a statement following the claim Friday by Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev that the rocket fell on United States territory Dec. 1, said:

"According to available data the remnants of the third stage carrier rocket fell on the territory of Alaska and on the western coast of North America."

Tass' statement that rocket remnants came down on the west coast could mean the Alaska Panhandle, British Columbia or both.

Khrushchev accused the Americans of refusing to return the rocket.

"They don't want to give it back to us," he said. "We relied on them, trusting in their decency, but they didn't live up to it."

LASTED 58 DAYS

"In all the carrier rocket of Sputnik No. 1, which initially orbited the earth in 96.2 minutes and had an apogee of 900 kilometres (559 miles), lasted as an artificial satellite of the earth for about 58 days, having in that time travelled a distance in the order of 39,000,000 kilometres (24,233,000 miles)."

The U.S. Army at Fairbanks, Alaska, reported a fragment of the rocket was believed to have fallen Sunday 100 miles south of Fairbanks. But nothing was reported found. Washington officials said they have no evidence the fragment hit the United States.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., reported its observations indicated the rocket plunged to its death Saturday night, possibly in the South Pacific.

T-BRICKS FOR KOREA

Navy Man Describes Appalling Condition

By DINAH KERR

An RCN commander who last saw Korea in the grip of a fierce and bloody war called on Victorians today to support the "T-Bricks for Korea" fund.

"If what I saw was any yardstick," he said, "conditions there are even more frightful now."

He visited Korea in 1952 and was shocked by the plight of thousands of children left homeless by the ravages of war.

"A tremendous number roamed the streets in bands, scavenging and stealing so that they could live another day," he said. "Even then conditions were unbelievably grim."

Friday Victorians contributed $466 to The Times campaign to build a TB outpatients' pavilion for children in Seoul.

"We need $12,000 by Christmas and we now have little over $4,400. Will you send a donation to The Victoria Daily Times, Douglas Street, or The Times' downtown office, Broad Street, today? (See list of donors, page 29.)

Baby Budget Spreads Few Tax Cuts Thinly

FISCAL HIGHLIGHTS

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of Finance Minister Donald Fleming's fiscal statement to the Commons Friday night: Revenues for 1957-58 fiscal year estimated at $5,144,000,000 with tax cuts of $26,000,000 from the $5,170,000,000 forecast by the Liberal government.

Expenditures for 1957-58 fiscal year now forecast at $5,064,000,000 compared with Liberal estimate of $5,018,000,000 in last spring's budget.

Surplus for 1957-58 fiscal year now forecast at $80,000,000 compared with spring budget forecast of $152,000,000.

No increases in taxes.

Room, board and transportation allowances to workers on away-from-home construction sites to be tax-free.

Personal income tax exemption for dependents increased $100, effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Rate of tax on first $1,000 of taxable income reduced to 11 per cent from 13 per cent; rate on second $1,000 reduced to 14 from 15 per cent; both effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Corporation income tax of 30 per cent to apply on first $25,000 income instead of first $20,000, effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Corporation income tax rate of 47 per cent on all profits in excess of $25,000 unchanged.

Special excise tax on automobiles reduced to 7½ per cent from 10 per cent, effective Dec. 7, 1957.

Tax reductions in fiscal year ending March 31, 1958, amount to $26,000,000; in a full year to $178,000,000.

Repeal of Succession Duty Act to be started at this session of Parliament, completed later.

New estate taxation act will exempt all estates up to $50,000; widows' estates to get $60,000 exemption plus $10,000 for each child under 21.

Reduced excise tax on cars to cost treasury $20,000,000 in full year; $8,000,000 in current fiscal year.

Non-League Team Scores Soccer Upset

LONDON (Reuters) — Little non-league Hereford United moved into the third round of the English soccer Association Cup play today with a crushing 6-1 win over Third Division Queens Park Rangers.

Hereford's win before 10,000 fans — a third of the town's population — was the highlight of 31 games between Third Division and non-league clubs. The goal is the cup final at Wembley in May.

The only other non-league club still in the competition is Wigan Athletic, of the Lancashire combination, which held Third Division Mansfield Town to a 1-1 tie today. They will replay Wednesday.

The missile blew, but not up.

Have a chance? Better than a year's tax reduction pay an increase this followin' year.

Don't see why we can't see the Sputnik if it landed in B.C. or Alaska. Only about 850,000 square miles involved.

Fleming Slices Income, Car Levies

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's income tax payers will benefit next year, and buyers of new cars will gain immediately, from a thinly-spread cut of $178,000,000 a year in federal taxes.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming presented this tax-change program in the Commons Friday night as the realization of a Progressive Conservative election promise of tax reductions.

Opposition spokesmen immediately charged that it fell far short of the government's election pledges and bitterly attacked the 52-year-old minister for not presenting a full fledged budget. (See page 3.)

Mr. Fleming's statement which he didn't claim to be a formal budget speech, contained these main proposals:

1. Personal income tax reductions starting Jan. 1 and ranging up to $30 for some taxpayers, and more for those with children and other dependents. This will cost the treasury $146,000,000 a year.

Reduced Rates on Income

More than half the drop in personal income tax comes from reducing tax rates on the first $2,000 of taxable income — the amount on which the levy is made after all exemptions and deductions are counted. All 4,500,000 taxpayers will benefit to some extent.

That change will mean a 15 per cent tax saving for persons with taxable incomes of less than $1,000 and an 11 per cent saving for those in the $1,000-$2,000 bracket. A flat $30-a-year cut goes to all with taxable incomes over $2,000.

The other change in personal income taxes will boost the basic exemption for children and other dependents by $100. It will rise to $250 from $150 for "family allowance" children to age 16, and to $500 from $400 for other dependent children and other dependents.

The minister said his reductions will cost the treasury $26,000,000 in the current fiscal year ending March 31, and leave him with an $80,000,000 surplus.

SMALLER SURPLUS
This compares with the forecast of a $152,000,000 surplus made by former Liberal finance minister Walter Harris in his Continued on Page 29

Car Dealers Laud Excise Tax Ease

By JOHN MIKA

Victoria car dealers today lauded the federal government for an unprecedented protection announced in the new tax changes Friday.

Dealers were pleased with the 25 per cent reduction in excise taxes on new cars, but what brought them cheering to their feet was the promise that the cut would apply on new cars already in their lots.

Other tax changes, along with a move that will moderately reduce 1958 income tax, were welcomed by business and labor leaders as well as parents.

R. W. Riddle, manager of Thomas Plimley Ltd. and president of the Victoria Auto Dealers Association, said the promise that the 2½ per cent car excise tax reduction would apply on cars in stock was "wonderful news."

FIRST TIME
"That's the first time in history the dealers ever have been given this protection by Ottawa."

"It is a substantial benefit to dealers because many have high inventories at this time of year when the new models come out," he said.

Mr. Riddle said any tax cut was welcome but "we won't be sure of exactly how much it means until we get the new price lists from manufacturers."

David Lawson, manager of Empress Motors Ltd., said the cut should have some effect on the price of late-model used cars because of lower prices on new ones.

"I think the cut is too small but at least it's something," he said. "But I'm very happy that we will get rebates on taxes already paid on new cars. We've never had that before and we've taken a costly beating when previous changes were made."

AT FACTORY LEVEL

Manager of another auto firm, who preferred to remain unidentified, said he did not think the cut would make very much difference because it will be made at the factory price level.

"I think it will mean about a $35 reduction in the retail price of cars on the average, not the $75 being mentioned by the press reports," he said.

Hugh R. Stephen, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said the government's move to ease the corporation tax at the lower end of the scale was "welcome relief to smaller businesses."

The 20 per cent corporation tax reduction was announced Friday.

HEADLINERS' FIELD DAY

London's morning newspapers today made sport of U.S. failure to launch a satellite with a Vanguard rocket. Montage shows range of descriptions from "Kaputnik" to "Ike's Phutnik." (AP Wirephoto.)

Ike Demands Full Report

U.S. Moon-Launching Flop Jeered Loudest By British

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sifted the ashes of its fallen earth satellite rocket today, seeking a way to recoup its heavy loss in the scientific cold war.

President Eisenhower ordered the defence department to give him a full account of what happened and why. The president was described as being "disappointed."

So was the man in charge of Project Vanguard, Dr. John Hagen of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington who today studied films of the ill-fated satellite launching Friday at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

PUBLIC REPORT

The report Hagen makes will go to Eisenhower. Then doubtless it will be revealed in some form to the American people.

Some diplomats in Washington felt the U.S. satellite failure made it imperative that Eisenhower attend the Paris meeting of NATO heads of government. But it was still up to the president's doctors to say whether he was recovered enough from his mild stroke of Nov. 25 to make the trip.

Against this backdrop, the Vanguard fizzle made its diplomatic and psychological impact on the world.

Some sections of the British press jeered loudest in the world-wide reaction to Friday's failure. But there was sober comment too.

Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev, questioned at a cocktail party in Finland's Moscow embassy, sidestepped an invitation to crow. He said he was sure a United States satellite "will be launched sooner or later". Moscow radio likewise played it straight.

EUROPE WAY BEHIND
NATO Secretary-General Paul-Henri Spaak agreed with Khrushchev's estimate. Spaak frowned on Europeans laughing at the United States failure, saying Europe "must be very far in decline" not even to think about launching a satellite of its own.

At the United Nations, several diplomats expressed regret at the United States satellite failure. One was Russian delegate Arkady A. Sobolev.

Some leading United States legislators said the failure indicates it may take a "long, hard pull" to catch up with Russia in missile development.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Texas) said his Senate preparedness subcommittee will ask for a full report on the satellite launching explosion.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, said the Vanguard incident was "one of the best things in our history."

Defence department officials publicized — and most humiliated — indicated no great alarm at the satellite launching failure.

Spring NATO Meet
LUXEMBOURG (Reuters) — Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary-general of NATO, said today that a military conference of Atlantic pact countries will be held next March "to examine all necessary reforms and modifications in the fields of strategy and armaments."

'BEAM KNOCKED HIM OFF'

Man's Death Plunge From Span Watched by Horrified Brother

VANCOUVER (CP) — A young steelworker described today how he turned his eyes away in horror while his brother fell 95 feet to his death from the Second Narrows Bridge here.

Albert Bearchell, 28, of New Westminster, B.C., died several hours after slipping off a high beam on the bridge while working with his brother Friday.

Mr. Bearchell, stepfather of four children, formerly lived in Edmonton.

"We were carrying some scaffolding out to the first point of the bridge," said Roland Bearchell, 24, brother of the dead man.

"I was in front and he was behind. I set my end down and a moment later he holered that his end was cutting into his shoulder."

"He tried to put it down, but it turned around on him and knocked him off balance."

Witnesses said Albert Bear-

chell grabbed at the beam as he went over the edge, fell 30 feet to a second beam, then rolled off that and plunged 75 feet to the ground.

"I turned my eyes away when I saw him roll off the second time," his brother said.

The injured man was several hours later in North Vancouver General Hospital. Both brothers came to Vancouver from Edmonton last August.

Labor War Not Our Aim, Say Unions

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Both the AFL-CIO and the exiled International Brotherhood of Teamsters disclaimed any intent today of starting a labor war in the wake of the truck union's expulsion on corruption charges.

The action came after AFL-CIO President George Meany charged the teamsters never have lifted a finger to clean up alleged corrupt conditions that have swirled around president-elect James Hoffa and other teamsters bosses.

Meany said the federation's door will remain open for return of the teamsters as soon as the truckers' union gets rid of Hoffa.

"There is no plan at all for a war with the teamsters and we hope it will never come," Meany said.

HOUSE GIVES PEARSON NOBEL PRIZE SENDOFF

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons today gave Lester B. Pearson a warm sendoff for his journey to Oslo, Norway, to receive the Nobel peace prize.

Stanley Knowles, deputy CCF leader, suggested that the former Liberal external affairs minister be offered the good wishes of the House through Speaker Roland Michener.

There was applause. Speaker Michener said he was sure this applause clearly showed members' feelings toward their distinguished colleague.

NATO Support Asked by Dutch

PARIS (CP)—The Netherlands asked the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's council today to support a Dutch complaint to the United Nations about developments in Indonesia, where Dutch citizens are being expelled.

Dr. Eelco van Kleffens, Dutch permanent delegate to the council, said after an emergency meeting that the council took the idea under consideration and referred the Indonesian situation to member governments.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian employees took over the three largest Dutch banks in downtown Jakarta today despite a government ban on unauthorized seizures of Dutch enterprises.

A union leader said the Dutch public library and Dutch diplomatic mission libraries in Jakarta also were taken over this morning.

The Indonesian government has ordered most of the 46,000 Dutch residents to get out immediately, leaving behind most of their property. The order was issued Friday as part of a campaign to wrest West New Guinea from The Netherlands.

A source close to the government said diplomatic relations with The Netherlands will be broken off very soon.

Opposition Attacks Fiscal Presentation

IN PARLIAMENT

(From Times News Services)

Trade Minister Under Blast From Opposition

Opposition members Friday tossed brick-bats of criticism at Trade Minister Gordon Churchill for what he didn't say in his first major House statement on Canada's trading position.

After broadly tracing the new Progressive Conservative government's trade moves since it took office June 21, Mr. Churchill said: "I do not think any government in Canada's history has done so much in such a short time to implement its trade policies."

Liberal trade critic William M. Benidickson said Mr. Churchill made this statement on the basis of statistical information. He agreed that never before have the policies of a new government become so quickly evident—the statistics "are rather ominous." But there was "much lacking" in the minister's statement.

'Minister of Nothing' Says CCFer

Fred S. Zaplitzky (CCF, Dauphin) said former Liberal trade minister C. D. Howe used to be known as the "minister of everything." Mr. Churchill was "minister of nothing."

When Lionel Chevrier (L, Montreal) asked if the minister could give some indication of the success of the Canadian trade mission currently visiting Britain, Mr. Churchill replied:

"The reason I say that the mission up to this date has been successful is based on that intense interest among businessmen and that surely is going to result in increased trade between our two countries."

Mr. Churchill opened debate on his department's $23,000,000 spending estimates for the current year. He said Canada's trade deficit eased in the first 10 months of this year to $737,500,000 from $755,200,000 in the corresponding 1956 period.

Imports from the U.S. had declined by more than $60,000,000, or about 2 per cent, while imports from Britain rose 8 per cent to almost $46,000,000.

"Encouraging progress has thus been made towards two of the objectives of the present administration, the reduction of our large deficit on merchandise trade and the expansion of the share of our imports coming from the U.S."

The father of three youngsters raised a frustrated cry in the House Friday against breakfast cereal manufacturers who lure children with toys and other objects tucked in cereal boxes.

Merwyn Johnson (CCF, Kildersley), father of an eight-year-old daughter and two sons aged five and six, called for an end to "this merciless pressure being put on the parents of Canada."

"I've been coerced, cajoled, cried at and commanded to buy certain types of breakfast cereal just because the box contained a toy or some marbles," said the 34-year-old Saskatchewan farmer.

He said the result in many cases is a closet stocked with cereal which the youngsters didn't really want in the first place.

"If someone has the secret of knowing how to say no, I wish they'd let me in on it."

Basic Exemption Aid To Widows, Children

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming Friday night proposed that all estates be given basic exemption from succession duties of $50,000 with higher exemptions for estates going to widows with children under 21.

His proposal was part of a plan which he said will be started at this session of Parliament but not completed until a later session.

Wage Earners Get Benefits In February

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said Friday night the government does not pretend that it made all the tax cuts it would like to make.

The government, he said, went as far as it could go in "this part of a fiscal year in making tax reductions."

He also said it may be February before wage earners' pay envelopes show any change in income tax deducted at the source, because new tax deduction tables will take time to prepare.

MINOR TAX RELIEF FOR CORPORATIONS

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian corporations will get minor tax relief starting Jan. 1, 1958.

The corporation income tax rate now is 20 per cent on the first $20,000 of taxable income and 47 per cent on all profits in excess of $20,000. The 47 per cent rate remains unchanged.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming announced Friday night in the Commons that the $20,000 amount will be increased to $25,000 effective next Jan. 1.

In effect, all corporations with profits in excess of $25,000 will get a flat reduction in tax of $1,350 a year.

Car Tax Cut Applies Today

Reduction 'Meagre Relief' Says Automobile Group Head

OTTAWA (CP)—A one-quarter reduction in the excise tax on new automobiles went into effect today.

The reduction — to 7½ per cent from 10 — was announced Friday night in the Commons by Finance Minister Donald Fleming in the course of a fiscal statement.

Alex R. Morrison, president of the Canadian Automobile Association, described the cut as "meagre relief" and "totally inadequate" and said the excise tax should have been abolished.

Mr. Fleming said the government expects the reduction will be reflected at once in the price of cars—that is, that it will be passed on to the purchaser.

GIVE DEALERS REFUND

At least one car manufacturer, Chrysler of Canada, announced that the reduction would be passed along to the dealer and his customer. Chrysler estimated the reduction at the retail level will range from $42 to $70 depending on the price of the car.

James J. Dykes, general manager of the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce, said all car manufacturers have assured the government that the full amount of the reduction will appear immediately in their wholesale and suggested retail prices.

The excise tax is paid by the manufacturer or importer, but Mr. Fleming said dealers and distributors will be given a refund of the amount of the reduction on their floor stocks of new cars on hand.

The excise tax reduction will cost the federal treasury $8,000,000 in the current fiscal year which ends March 31, 1958, and $20,000,000 in a full year. For at least some auto workers, there were happy by-products from the announcement.

Tax Cuts Work Out This Way

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian taxpayers will not get the benefit of Finance Minister Fleming's personal income tax cuts until Jan. 1, 1958.

This means, in turn, that taxpayers will apply the income tax changes when filling out—in early 1958—their income tax forms for 1957.

This is how the tax for 1957 and 1958 works out for persons who are single, married with no dependents and married with two children:

Income	1957	1958
Single
$1,500	$32	$44

Faithful Worker Declares Fleming

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming Friday night prided himself for his capacity for hard work.

At the end of his tax-change statement to the Commons the 52-year-old minister said: "May I say very humbly that 17 and 18 hours' work a day, and 100 hours' work a week is an insignificant price to pay for the high privilege of serving Canada."

James Sinclair, Liberal financial critic, seized on the minister's concluding statement to say "modesty is not one of his (Mr. Fleming's) qualities."

He said it is customary to pay compliments to the finance minister on his first statement at the opening of Commons study of his estimates.

In this case, however, it was "completely unnecessary." Nothing he could say would quite cover the minister with the glory he had paid himself.

Construction Workers Benefit

OTTAWA (CP)—Travel and living expenses paid to construction workers living away from their homes and dependents will be exempt from income tax this year.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming said in the Commons Friday night that an amendment to the Income Tax Act to provide this exemption will be introduced before the end of the year.

"This amendment... will provide that if the construction site is so distant that the worker cannot reasonably be expected to return daily to his normal place of residence where he maintains a home in which he lives with his wife or some other dependent, that construction employee will not be required to include in his income for tax purposes the value of the free board and lodging or reasonable allowance paid to him to cover expenses of meals and lodging, or value of travelling expenses paid by the employer in transporting him to the site and back home again," Mr. Fleming said.

The End of Inflation?

AN ECONOMIC WATERSHED was crossed in Canada a few days ago when, for the first time in a year, the cost-of-living index fell.

But the fall was slight, only one-tenth of a point. Moreover, the fall in prices was confined entirely to food. In all the other main categories—shelter, clothing, and household operation, prices all rose. Were it not for a substantial cut in food prices, the full index would have continued to rise.

It is thus too early to cheer about the fall in living costs. In most sectors of the economy, apart from agriculture, the pressure on prices is still upward and in many sectors it must continue upwards as production costs are continually increased.

Mr. Fleming, the minister of finance, says that "inflation has been checked." In monetary terms it has been checked thanks largely to the policies of the Bank of Canada which

Mr. Fleming and his colleagues attacked so vigorously before they came to office.

But in another sense inflation obviously has not been checked. A cost-price inflationary pressure as distinguished from a monetary pressure is still obviously under way. It will remain so long as wage increases are larger than any increase in productivity, or output per manhour. That is a mathematical certainty.

Increased costs of production, built into the economy now, will emerge in retail prices later on. If this spiral goes far enough, and consumers, Canadian or foreign, resist higher prices, then sales, production and employment will fall. Of this process the British Columbia lumber industry and the automobile industry of Ontario are two classic examples today.

We cannot say, therefore, that the problem of inflation has been solved merely because the price of some foodstuffs has declined.

It's Our Rocket Too

ALTHOUGH THE FAILURE OF U.S. scientists to launch their rocket carrying a small satellite has brought forth derogatory comment from many quarters, it is well to place the incident in its proper perspective.

In any such exploratory work as high altitude rocketry, many failures are bound to occur before all aspects of the job are mastered. There is no reason to believe that the Russians did not have numerous disappointments before eventually launching their highly successful Sputnik rockets.

Criticism of the American effort may lie in the earlier delay that has placed the U.S. in a secondary position: it should not at this point include derisive comment on what might well be termed a normal upset in a project involving so many difficulties.

Perhaps less publicity, fewer patriotic predictions of what is going to be accomplished, would help to minimize such incidents. But those who do the talking for publication are not necessarily those who are striving determinedly, and with a full consciousness of their limitations, to perfect this vital piece of national armament.

The U.S. has launched other rockets of considerable size and force. Yesterday's explosion of the satellite carrier does not constitute anything more than a delay—a serious one but a temporary one.

Such a viewpoint in no way disparages the Soviet accomplishment—a terrific achievement of research and technology with the added triumph of being the first in the world. But it must be added that the last word in rockets has not been said. There need be no disposition to write off an ally which, while working for its own defence, is also working for ours.

Wind From Penticton

MR. ROBERT STRACHAN, leader of the CCF in British Columbia and a likeable and usually a sensible man, recently made a speech in Penticton which must rate as the most foolish in a year, of many foolish speeches.

The Canadian Press quotes him as saying: "Whenever we have had a Conservative Government we have had a depression; whenever we've had a Liberal Government we've had a war, and I suppose if we had them both together we'd have a depression and a war."

How foolish can Mr. Strachan get?

The great depression began, in fact, when the Liberal Party of W. L. Mackenzie King was in office. Does Mr. Strachan mean to tell us that the Government of Canada caused a collapse in the entire world economy, of which the depression in Canada was only a small part?

If the succeeding Conservative Government of the late Lord Bennett mismanaged the affairs of Canada, as the depression deepened, does Mr. Strachan think that any Canadian Government whatever, even a CCF Government, could have insulated Canada against this world-wide condition?

When Mr. Strachan says that wars occur only under Liberal Governments he forgets that the First World War began during the Conservative administration of the late Sir Robert Borden. But does he think that this Government had anything to do with the causes of that war in Europe?

Does he think that in 1939 the Liberal Government of Mr. King was conspiring with Hitler to invade Poland? Or that the St. Laurent Government co-operated with the Chinese Communists to launch the invasion of Korea, in 1950?

Mr. Strachan knows that his statements are just plain nonsense—a few silly phrases that sprang to his lips, no doubt, in the euphoria of a political meeting.

He naturally resents it when Mr. Bennett says that the Opposition leader "just opens his mouth and lets the wind blow through" and to this gaucherie Mr. Strachan replies: "Even if I did just open my mouth and let the wind blow through I would make more sense than he is asked a sensible question."

After Mr. Strachan's Penticton speech there must be some doubt on that point. In the current contest of public absurdities the leaders of the Government and the Opposition are running neck and neck.

As Our Readers See It

Indian Representatives

Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret is to visit us in July. It is to be hoped that representative of British Columbia tribal Chieftains and Native Indian children will be presented to her.

Miss Bessie Forbes described the Government reception in Ottawa in October in which the Queen received a representative Chief from each Province.

Your reader was elated at the change from having Natives appearing only as entertainers before the Royal visitors as in Victoria at Thunderbird Park a few years ago: Visiting Chiefs present—including one who worked so hard to streamline the dances to the fifteen minutes allowed—were not presented!

Beyond Reason

You state that the Greater Victoria School Board is calling for tenders for a ten-room addition to Oak Bay High School estimated by the School Board at $525,000.

Isn't this a terrific price for ten rooms—$52,500 a room?

By estimating the addition at $525,000 it follows that a contractor will base his price at this sum, even if he could build for a lot less. When is this game of soaking the public going to end. No wonder the bulk of our tax dollar is for schools. $52,500 a room is beyond all reason.

LOOSE ENDS

AS all my afflicted friends assure me, the influenza epidemic has been a blessing in disguise. At first, however, the disguise seemed to me excessive and there were moments, I confess, when I would have preferred good health and even the horror of the day's work. On second thoughts, however, I realized the advantages of an enforced holiday with pay, the priceless boon of doing absolutely nothing and feeling no guilt—a joy almost unknown in this age of leisure.

Then, after a few days of complete idleness, a man hopelessly addicted to the habit-forming drug of work can resist the temptation no longer and must do something. (Clearly few of us are spiritually prepared yet for the still more leisurely age ahead.)

So I turned to an easy but rather melancholy task which would be of no interest to anyone else if it did not illustrate a universal illness much more serious than influenza. That is to say, I cleared out my files.

There was a time, in my youth and innocence, when I filed everything of importance in a giant filing cabinet pur-

Portage Inlet.

Bill Hollett.

The Big Bon Fire and the Bargain Sale

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

chased at great cost for the purpose. It seemed to me necessary in those days to have some facts if one was to discuss public affairs in public.

The facts, the figures, the bluebooks, the Hansards, the statesmen's speeches, the economists' statistics swelled year after year until the filing cabinet bulged to bursting point and a second was required.

In time I had such a mass of information that I could never find anything I wanted and seldom ventured within this appalling jungle. Yet I could not bring myself to clear it out until influenza brought me a simultaneous rise in temperature and courage.

Well, I cleared it out, filled three packing cases with paper for my winter bonfire and realized for the first time how useless it is to file and remember anything.

For example, here was a file of speeches by Dr. Manion and Mr. John Bracken. They seemed important when filed. But who were Dr. Manion and Mr. Bracken? Estimable men both of them, patriots and leaders of the Conservative Party. But it required a strong effort of memory and an hour's hurried reading to recall anything about them.

There was also, alphabetically close to the Bracken file, a Dewey file.

Who was Mr. Dewey? With highest respect for all these gentlemen, I threw their files out. They would be no more use to me. I hesitated about a file labeled "Drew, George" but kept it, just in case. "King, W. L. M." went by the board.

Nearly were files on a man named Byrnes, whom I finally remembered as an American secretary of state; a man named Truman who, apparently, was an obscure senator investigating certain government contracts; a minor American Congressman, named Nixon who seemed to be on the trail of a forgotten fugitive named Alger Hiss.

All these personages and all these files were contemporary only a few years ago but they seemed already to belong to the ages. (The first packing case was almost full by this time.)

Then I opened a file on the United Nations, which I had begun to collect in San Francisco in the hopeful spring of 1945. That file would make a man laugh or weep, according to his nature; for it was clear from these records that the world of 1945 was entering its golden age, mankind had submitted at last to international law, the Russians were our brothers and war was forever prohibited. (I added another bulky parcel to the packing case.)

The file rather comically labeled

"Peace Settlement" was even larger, three huge parcels, in fact, ranging from Yalta to Geneva and containing complete blueprints for a foolproof, peaceful world. More fuel for the fire.

There were economic files even more wistful and nostalgic, and enough expert predictions to ruin the reputation of all the world's economists, if one were mean enough to quote them now.

I noted only the general agreement of all the best minds that the war would be followed immediately by a devastating depression and President Truman's warning against deflation. In charity and the weakness of flu, I hurled those files into the last packing case.

What use was any of these records? Only yesterday they were the headlines, the pronouncements of statesmen, the verdicts of experts, the ultimate wisdom, the sure guide to the future. Today they were the clumsy hieroglyphics of some dark, prehistoric cave. And so tomorrow's facts will be only a day or two later.

I am planning a big bonfire, the funeral pyre of two human decades, and I will sell my filing cabinet at a bargain price to anyone who still believes in facts.

WHEN WE WERE VERY YOUNG

Among the Pleasant Trails and Friends of Old Quatsino

By GUS SIVERTZ

ANYONE who has gone into Quatsino by sea, perhaps after a stormy trip up the coast, will never forget that lotus land of northern Vancouver Island. I first saw it from the deck of Princess Maquina, then a spanking new ship and a great improvement on her rusty and battered predecessors. As we nosed in toward the dock at dead slow speed a flotilla of small craft sped around us and raced us to the landing on which stood what appeared to me to be the whole population of the settlement.

Sivertz

An old-timer stood by me on the deck, still keenly interested in the animated scene and waving now and then to some friend ashore. He was Pearl Fleming, representative of a life insurance company and financial mentor to scores of men in isolated settlements between Victoria and Port Alice.

"This your first trip here?" he asked, and didn't wait for an answer. "You'll like it here; they're good people and the country is wonderful. Folks call this 'The Lazy Man's Paradise' and I guess it is. The sea is full of all sorts of fish and those hills have deer, elk, grouse and ptarmigan and there are ducks and geese on all the flats."

While we talked a sleek, fast speedboat churned around the ship, steered by a beautiful girl who sat in the stern while her single passenger was a sedate and dignified, elderly man, fine-featured and wearing a trim vandyke beard.

"That's Lord Varney," Mr. Fleming said. "Not of course a real lord, but everyone here calls him that." When we berthed "Lord Varney" sat firm in his seat but his daughter swarmed up from the small boat landing to the wharf which was abuzz with activity as mail sacks were tossed ashore and friend greeted friend when the gangplank was lowered.

Chosen Few

There seemed no hurry about departure of the ship for Port Alice, a few miles up Neroutos Inlet, and a lucky chosen few were invited aboard in the spirit of hospitality that marked those leisurely days before the advent of air travel.

My destination was the home of the Ildstad family whom we knew as neighbors in Victoria and who were now an integral part of the little community of Quatsino. In the friendly custody of Tom Ildstad and surrounded by a gay segment of his nine children I was hustled up to Ed Evenson's store and post office where everyone converged to get their precious mail—a handful of letters and endless bulky parcels from the mail order houses.

Trail and Boat

Then arm-in-arm with Hazel, Mary, Roy, Alf and Schuyler we set out down the wonderful trail that led to their waterside home. Tom and little Lawrence set out by boat with the bulky freight.

At that time—and probably to this day—there were no wheeled vehicles at Quatsino and everyone travelled by foot or by boat, mostly of course by boat because it was by far the simplest and most pleasant way to reach the homesteads which were all built by the beach or within hailing distance of the sea.

But our homeward progress on my first visit was along an amazingly lovely and park-like trail, carpeted by fir needles and cedar fronds, chattering with others heading the same way and stopping ping now and then to be greeted by strangers to me who soon became friends.

There was Bill Kinsey and George Nordstrom and Mr. Leask whose skill with a camera and insatiable search for Indian craft had made him a sort of unofficial archivist of Quatsino Sound. Then the Ildstad children insisted that we leave the trail and visit Ole Akre's astonishing general store.

He was sitting just inside the store door on a chair that he had fashioned from a half-barrel, paying not the slightest attention to a half-dozen Indians who wandered about picking over bits of crockery, hardware, highly colored silks, and best of all, shining whistling kettles. Mr. Akre was a "black Norwegian" from up Hammerfest way, I suppose, and he had, among other virtues, a tremendous gift of silence which he broke with the greatest reluctance.

Dinner Ready

Later we were to watch him in his traffic with the Indians but now a more urgent duty awaited us and we raced skipping and laughing to where Mrs. Ildstad—a true Viking daughter—stood in her kitchen door to welcome us to a roast chicken dinner whose delectable aroma poured out through the doors of the house.

Do International Sports Do More Harm Than Good to Our Relations Abroad?

By Hon. Lester B. Pearson. (Copyright 1957. All Rights Reserved.)

IT was Kipling who said that "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet." But that was before the Grey Cup. This annual festival of fun and frolic, which includes a football game, has played, I think, a valuable unifying role in our postwar national development. It is something from which Canadians can all take genuine satisfaction, even those who do not know the difference between a blocking back and a kicking mule.

Pearson

Of course, our pleasure in this great national occasion would perhaps be even greater if the most publicized members of the two Canadian play-off teams were not usually Americans; and if the scope of participation could only be extended to include a championship team from the Atlantic provinces.

The latter drawback is, perhaps, something that time will eventually remove. As to the former, a country which exports so many hockey players across the border should not become narrowly nationalistic, or seek to apply dumping duties against football imports.

Sport has today, however, as it has had for many years, an international as well as a national influence. Whether that influence is helpful to good international relations, or otherwise, is becoming increasingly a subject for argument.

It is a question that has always interested me both as a participant—too many years ago—in international competition and, more recently, as a person with, shall I say, a professional interest in good international relations.

There are two factors at work—and they are closely related—which have a bearing on this question.

First, international sporting competitions have become more and more concerned with national pride, prejudice and prestige. A victory becomes a triumph not for a team but for a nation; or even for an ideology.

A Communist three-miler breaks the world record and it is proof of the decadence of capitalism. An American wins the heavyweight boxing title at the Olympic Games and the Kremlin has been defeated.

This attitude—and I know how hard it is to avoid it—can easily lead to bickering and dissension with repercussions which go far beyond the sporting fraternity.

It can also lead to rough play—so intense are the emotions aroused—and this can lead to more recrimination and bad feeling between the people of the countries concerned. Some of Canada's hockey experiences in Europe come to mind.

European and North American rules in this game are different. So are the tactics that are normally followed. Hockey in Canada is now a game which puts a premium on hard, tough play; with a maximum of body checking and an occasional brawl to excite the spectators.

In our matches at home we may revel in this, or deplore it as substituting a gladiatorial struggle for a contest of skill, speed and finesse. But when it is Canada versus Russia or some other country, the charges of rough and unfair play on the one hand or unfair playing conditions on the other, become international controversies. Occasionally even the foreign offices or diplomats have to be called in.

Contests and controversies of this kind between national teams do no good to international friendship. That this, however, does not need to happen, and that its absence does not affect the attraction of a game, is shown by the experience of the Russian hockey team now touring in Canada.

The conduct of these players on and off the ice is certainly good. Russian propaganda—in the best meaning of the word. And in the games played, the intense desire to win for personal and national reasons on both sides doesn't seem to have interfered with good sportsmanship and clean play.

In my own experience I have found athletes to be good sportsmen; fair and friendly persons. Their association at the Olympic Games, for instance, with those from many other countries, has often led to good feeling and better international understanding.

There would be even more of this, perhaps, if such a good result were not often frustrated, not by the participants, but by the press and public opinion which magnify the importance of the national rivalries that have been created and the controversial incidents that sometimes occur.

In my view the British, of all nations, have established and maintained the best traditions of sportsmanship, the healthiest approach to games, both for players and for spectators. And of all international contests I have ever witnessed, the British Empire Games have been the best embodiment of those traditions. The rivalry has been intense but friendliness and good feeling have always been uppermost.

Perhaps it would help us restore sport—national and international—to its proper place in the scale of social values—and that place is certainly an important one—if it could be given back in some degree at least to the players. This, I realize, is a Utopian suggestion in the day of the "organization" man; of huge stadiums and arenas; where, in hockey, the star centre of the Grade 6 team of the local public school is already on the negotiation list of the Detroit Red Wings!

When I played my first game of rugby for Oxford University—after having been informed by post card that I had been chosen—I was introduced to my teammates—or some of them—just before we went on the field. Our coach was our captain and our tactics were evolved as the game went on, each player using what skill, initiative and sense of team play that he possessed.

The members of an American college football squad today are drilled like a Guards regiment and organized like a production line. They live, eat, and sleep together and, if necessary, but only under orders, they would be willing to die together.

They are an exclusive, dedicated spartan brotherhood who perform their intricate manoeuvres in the few playing minutes of a game under as exact and unquestioned direction as any company officer ever received from his battalion commander before an attack.

I know we can never return to the carefree attitude and the cheerful atmosphere of the village cricket green. But cricketers in Canada have one annual Grey Cup contest—a healthy, friendly, zestful event. This year it has shown that the effete East is no longer effete. And half, at any rate, of Canada feels better.

The Greeks' Word

"Every trial is a drama. No matter who are the persons involved, whether important or obscure; no matter what is at stake, whether a man's life or merely the possession of a plot of land or a sum of money; there is a struggle which is of absorbing interest to the actors, and a decision to be taken which closely affects them. In the law courts, human nature as it really is, not as we would like it to be, is clearly and minutely revealed: the passions, their hopes, desires and fears, their baseness and occasionally their nobility."

"Selfishness, cruelty, avarice, lust, darken the picture; but to cheer us we have the gleam of courage, and above all the presiding genius of Justice, the desire to live and make others live harmoniously together; and Law, the instrument by which all progress is achieved."

The passage above quoted could have come from any of the great writers on the Common Law. It has a ring of Holmes about it; but it is much older than that. It was part of a speech written by an Athenian lawyer more than 2,000 years ago.

In those ancient times, when Silenus was young and gay, when gods were gods and men looked after them properly, the democracy of Athens was producing the ideas which ever since have been the basis and the strength of western civilization. To us today, caught up in the turbid gloom of fear and worry which the barbarians have spread over the world, those ancient times appear a golden age. Maybe they were. But it was there, and can say that distance lends enchantment. As everyone knows, there are no lawyers in a golden age; and there were lawyers in ancient Athens.

Not perhaps in the form we know today. The laws did not permit a litigant to hire an advocate to say his piece for him. So those who lacked what Johnson so justly called "a superiority of attention, of knowledge, of skill, and a better method of communication" were forced to seek other ways of presenting their law cases to the best advantage. They went to the logographos, the speechwriter, and memorized the speeches he wrote for them. Thus justice was served, though at great effort on the part of the litigant whose memory was not all it ought to be.

The speechwriters were a distinguished body, including such well known individuals as Demosthenes and Antiphon. The few examples of their work which survive show that the subtleties of legal argument are nothing new. Antiphon's oration Against a Step-Mother, on a Charge of Poisoning is a model which any budding crown counsel could study with profit. Brevity and lucidity in modern courtroom oratory are all too rare.

The name of the writer who produced what was quoted earlier is not known. But his words are remarkable in that they might have been written today by any reflective judge or journalist. They show the remarkable staying power of right ideas. I can do no better than end with another fragment from this same unknown ancient Greek: "In every rightly constituted state the Law must stand above human caprice and ambition. The citizen must fight to defend his Laws as he would his fortifications."

Who can deny it?

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

G. I. Ace of Spades

LONDON—You've handled playing cards thousands of times but have you ever noticed that, apart from the joker, there is one card that is quite different from all the others in the pack?

Answer: The ace of spades. It is always far more ornate than the other aces and carries the imprint of the manufacturer. This applies to cards made in all countries of the world and there is an interesting story behind the choice of the ace of spades as the one card to carry reading matter.

In 1815 the British government put a heavy tax on playing cards to help pay for the Napoleonic Wars. Seeking a method of tax collection persisted until as late as 1862 and cards made by British firms today still carry the information on the ace of spades: "Duty Three Pence."

And since Britain pioneered modern methods of card making, the other nations have copied this singling out of the ace of spades for the manufacturer's imprint.

I learned this when I dropped in to the office of Thomas de la Rue, Britain's biggest card firm, who are currently having an exhibition to celebrate their 125th anniversary. A fascinating show—everything there from de la Rue's original pack of cards to cards ancient and modern of every nation.

It seems cards got started as far back as 969 in China but the type we know today dates from 1299 in Italy, from where they spread over Europe, being first mentioned in England in 1464.

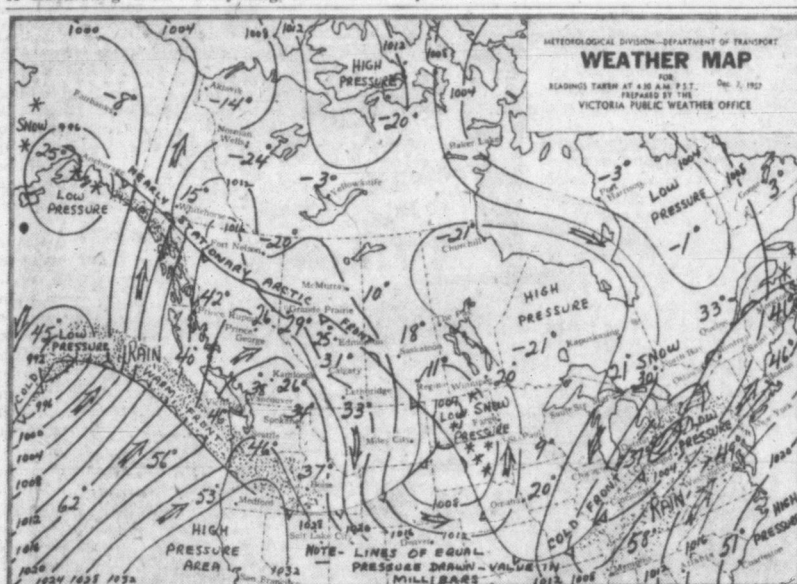

Those were all hand-made, of course, and it was in 1832 that Thomas de la Rue, from the Channel Island, developed the process of typographical printing of cards which is the system used everywhere now.

The stylized drawings of the court cards (including the one-eyed King of Diamonds) was in vogue by 1834 and it was interesting to see that, except for special packs, all countries have stuck strictly to these original designs for the King, Queen and Knave.

Noticeable variation: In 1933 the Russians made anti-religious cards, replacing the court cards with bishops, nuns and priests, with few thoughts illustrated in the background. But after more than a century of using the same designs, de la Rue felt the time has come for a change and after a world-wide competition among designers (won by a Frenchman) their latest standard pack has revolutionary designs not only for the court cards but for the numbered cards as well.

Will the British embrace these new-style cards and will other countries again follow de la Rue's lead?

At the current world bridge tournament here, this new pack is being used exclusively. Reaction of U.S. bridge expert Charles H. Goren: "It would make a lovely Christmas present..."

Free Gas Plan Would By-Pass Hours By-Law

Legal loophole in a new city by-law will pay off in "free gas" for customers at the BA Junction Service at Oak Bay Junction starting sometime next week.

The by-law, effective December 1, prohibits sale of gas and oil at gas stations after 6 p.m., unless they stay open 24 hours. "I can't sell gas or oil," said owner-operator Victor W. Williams, "but that doesn't mean I can't dispense it."

Mr. Williams said he would keep the station open "until I think my customers are best served" and will not charge for gasoline after 6 p.m.

SERVICE CHARGE
"But," he said, "no one can tell me what I can charge for my services, such as checking tires, oil and cleaning windshield."

"If I give gas for nothing and charge $1 for putting air into tires, I don't think my customers will object."

Mr. Williams, unsuccessful CCF candidate in Victoria in the last federal election, said the city by-law is "the product of the decrepit minds of our city fathers."

The by-law is "inconsistent," he said. "Restaurants can close when and how they want. The city doesn't tell them to stop serving coffee and tea after 6 p.m. I pay my business tax," he said. "I will not be dictated to."

Lieut.-Governor of P.E.I. Dies 2 Weeks After Appointment

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Dr. William Joseph Parnell Macmillan, one of Canada's most brilliant physicians and a former premier of Prince Edward Island, died here early today less than two weeks after his appointment as the province's new lieutenant-governor.

The 76-year-old doctor was to have been sworn in as lieutenant-governor Dec. 16. He had entered hospital here Nov. 26. The cause of death was not disclosed.

Born in the village of Clermont, P.E.I., he was a graduate of Prince of Wales College here and McGill University, Montreal.

Conservative premier of

P.E.I. from 1933 to 1935, he was from the Carnegie Foundation for Prince of Wales and T. Dunstan's University. Another $60,000 grant was used to establish a provincial demonstration library.

Dr. Macmillan is survived by his wife, three daughters and three sons.

In his years in the provincial cabinet, he never forgot he was a doctor. Often his nights were spent beside a sick bed. He would go without sleep to be in his office the next morning and took pride in the fact he was never late for an appointment.

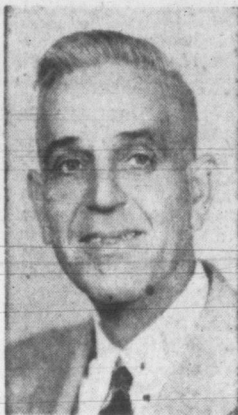

He fostered the erection of a new building for Prince of Wales College which raised it to the status of a standard junior college in 1933.

He obtained a $75,000 grant

BOOK TALK

By JAMES SCOTT

Typical Canadian Flavor Found In Two Divergent Novel Themes

From the western half of this country—that's from Winnipeg—come a couple of novels this season which represent a very wide variety of taste and interest. The titles themselves will point up the contrast—The City of Liberties and The Stars Make Room.

SCOTT

The first is an historical novel about the scandalous goings-on in Rome just prior to Julius Caesar's successful putch and is written by Edmonton professor of classics, George Hardy. The second is about a saintly Canadian minister, written by Winnipegger Nancy Jones who, by coincidence, is a minister's wife herself.

At first glance, there is little similarity between two such divergent themes. Indeed, the themes are not the point of comparison. The thing which interested me was that two Canadians could take two such widely separate topics and write books which both display what I have come to regard as typical characteristics in Canadian fiction.

Take Mr. Hardy, for example. If he wanted to write a book which would match the suggestion of his title, he couldn't have done better than choose the period he covers. However, as I read through this book—which, incidentally, is very sound historical fiction—I kept wondering why George Hardy ever picked such a period.

To me, he seemed very unhappy about the goings-on he was forced to describe. I could easily detect a slight pursing of the mouth and a downward drawing of the forehead in almost every line. Certainly I have rarely read of revels and debauchery described with so little zest and spirit.

This, I would submit, is fairly typical of Canadian writers. They seem deliberately to let themselves in for handling situations which, in essence, they strongly disapprove. The old Puritan situation where the good man is irresistibly drawn towards sin, and simultaneously loves and hates every minute of it, is one in which our writers seem to be constantly. This book, The City of Liberties, is an excellent case in point.

The opposite side of the coin is equally true. We also seem to be drawn to goodness but when it comes to talking about it, we take considerable pains to make certain that everybody realizes that there is no prudery in it and that, contrary to what might be expected, the very good life is chock full of a lot of big laughs and hearty good-fellowship.

This is what Mrs. Jones sets out to prove with a right good will in The Stars Make Room. The result is a book which will appeal to a lot of kindred Canadian spirits.

There is a lot of genuine pathos in this book, much good humor and the usual stock-in-trade situations which always seem to get into these Canadian novels about ministers.

Forceful Writing Seen in First Novel

A LESSON IN LOVE, by Margaret Creal, Simon and Schuster, New York, 282 pages.

(Reviewed by Norman Cribbens)
An English-type girls' school on the Canadian prairies is the setting for this vivid first novel by a young Canadian author now living in California.

"Beyond them, the prairies stretched away to meet the distant sky, and scarcely a tree or a hillock broke the flat, uncompromising vista," writes Margaret Creal of the country she knows so well.

Against this bleak background, Miss Creal stages a realistic drama of young Canadians in rebellion against the Anglicized training prescribed for them by loving parents. They don't want to be polished into English ladies, they do not enjoy attending chapel or twirling barefoot in Grecian tunics. They want to flirt with boys, go to movies and tap-dance in black tights.

Against this bleak background, Miss Creal stages a realistic drama of young Canadians in rebellion against the Anglicized training prescribed for them by loving parents. They don't want to be polished into English ladies, they do not enjoy attending chapel or twirling barefoot in Grecian tunics. They want to flirt with boys, go to movies and tap-dance in black tights.

After graduation, she goes to spend a vacation at the home of a glamorous classmate whose life is so much less inhibited than her own. It is fun at first, but disillusionment follows when Nicola discovers the new life is cheap and tawdry compared with that of home.

Her "Lesson in Love" is a brilliant exploration of the difference between the dream of growing up and the reality. Miss Creal writes clearly and forcefully—sometimes almost brutally—and gives the impression she has known most of the people characterized in her story of trial and achievement.

Wisdom, Vitality Rule Canada's National Gallery

By MONCRIEFF WILLIAMSON

I have been reading a detective story in which the C.I.D. superintendent remarks about a certain Soho pub, that if one waits there long enough, sooner or later one will meet everybody.

The same could be said about another British institution, the National Gallery.

My only meeting with the French painter, Nicholas de Stael (1914-1955) was in the summer of 1953. I had arrived to open the gallery of which I was then manager and found him waiting at the door. Apparently he had risen early, taken a taxi to Le Bourget airport and flown from Paris to London by the first morning flight.

The object of his visit? To look at one of the paintings in the National Gallery. Having deposited two drawings in my care he left immediately for Trafalgar Square and after looking at the picture he returned to Paris in time for lunch.

I was reminded of this incident while studying the new publication The National Gallery of Canada: Annual Report of The Board of Trustees for the Fiscal Year 1956-57 (National Gallery, Ottawa, 25 cents.) here, among several reproductions of recent acquisitions, is Nicholas de Stael's "Port de Sicile," and I couldn't help feeling how pleased he would have been had he known that this large canvas would eventually find its home in Canada's National Gallery.

As the story indicates, de Stael was a believer in national galleries. He knew that a national gallery is not merely a safe repository, but a place to be used by everybody in search of truth.

Canada is already making full use of her National Gallery. The activities recorded in the annual report are phenomenal. It is an exhilarating record of progress, good sense and Canadian initiative.

Space does not permit me to give more than a brief outline of the National Gallery's numerous activities. We know about the travelling exhibitions to Canadian art galleries, "Master Drawings of Four Centuries," a National Gallery exhibit, is on view at the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria until Dec. 22.)

We remember the furor in parliament and the press concerning the purchase of the Liechtenstein paintings. In England at the time, I recall how delighted we were that Canada had, so to speak, filled the breach by purchasing four masterpieces which otherwise would have found their home in the United States.

The annual report, however, takes us beyond the domestic field and with adroit use of pertinent facts and statistics the compilers record, with justifiable satisfaction, the impact of the National Gallery upon the rest of the world, particularly during the past two years.

We learn that Canada will have its own pavilion completed in time for the 1958 Venice Biennale. We learn of the numerous loans from the collections made overseas and to the United States. We learn of plans for Canadian participation in the 1958 Brussels International Exhibition.

The report records the steady

accumulation of sculpture in anticipation of the time when there will be adequate space for the display of this neglected art. Sculpture ranging from French Gothics to works by Epstein and the Italian Giacomo Manzù. Canadian sculptors are represented by Eugenia Berlin, Suzor-Cote, R. Tait McKenzie and Anne Kahane.

During the year under discussion the largest number of purchases was made for the Canadian section of paintings and drawings, and "these comprise works large and small from all periods from colonial days to the present."

Make Haste Slowly

The keynote of the annual report is expansion. While reading between the lines if we can sense an atmosphere of jubilation, we can also sense another cautionary attitude at work, for which Canadian taxpayers can be truly thankful. The National Gallery refuses to be rushed.

Those in authority will not purchase paintings by either Picasso or Matisse until the right works become available at the right price. In a world art market, where prices are not always unexaggerated, this is sanity, indeed, and reflects the spirit of caution with which the affairs of the National Gallery are being conducted.

I strongly recommend this annual report as required reading for Canadian artists, educationalists and all others who wish an insight into the burgeoning of Canadian culture as a world force. Twenty-five cents, postage free, seems a remarkably modest sum for such a lively, instructive and stimulating publication.

It's All Greek And Witty Too

ATHENIAN ADVENTURE, by C. P. Lee, McClelland & Stewart, Toronto, $4.50, 274 pp.
This book shifts scenes about Greece as fast as a four-armed stage hand, and its one device of a lot of intelligent fun.

The writer is witty; his facts straight and his interpretations of a highly developed character. Greeks, apparently, love to talk. It is fortunate that Mr. Lee, a professor without the normal drawbacks of his kind, loves to write.

He covers the church, politics, Athenian maid (in the scriptorial sense) rental problems; sunshine; poverty and wealth—the gamut.

From this volume one can learn enough to eliminate the tiresome expression "it's all Greek to me."—T.D.

Still Time To Get In on Color Contest; Dandy Cash Prizes Are Waiting for You

Here is the last sketch in this year's Little People's Christmas Coloring Contest.

When you have finished coloring this one, put it with the other two you have already clipped and colored, then bring or mail them to the Little People's Christmas Coloring Contest Editor, Victoria Daily Times, Victoria, B.C.

Just in case you missed the first two sketches you will find them in the Times of last Saturday, Nov. 30, and Thursday, Dec. 5.

Two things to remember, kiddies! All entries must be in our office or postmarked not later than midnight Dec. 15. Each sketch must have your name, age and address signed to it.

If your colored sketches are judged among the nine best you have a chance to win a first prize of $15; second, $10; third, $5; fourth, $2.50, or one of five prizes of $1 each.

So start coloring this last drawing and get your set of three in soon.

LITTLE PEOPLE'S CHRISTMAS COLORING CONTEST No. 3

White-bearded Old One has told the other Little People, Cork, Chub, Jink and Loop, about an old English custom that called for bringing out and lighting a Yule log, the idea being that as long as the log burned it was Christmas. No wonder the Little People are getting their own log.

NAME _____ AGE _____

RULES FOR THE LITTLE PEOPLE'S CHRISTMAS COLORING CONTEST

1. Every boy and girl up to and including 10 years old is eligible, except relatives of employees of this newspaper.
2. Clip out each of the three drawings in The Little People's Christmas Coloring Contest as they appear in the Victoria Times.
3. Color these drawings, or reasonable facsimiles, without any assistance. Then print your name, age and address at the bottom of each.
4. Colored pencils, paints, crayons or any other coloring materials of your choice may be used.
5. All three drawings must be submitted at one time. Save them until you have colored and signed each one. Then mail or bring them to THE LITTLE PEOPLE'S COLORING CONTEST EDITOR, Victoria Daily Times, Victoria, B.C. Any number of sets may be entered by each child.
6. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, Dec. 15.
7. Judging will be on the basis of beauty, imaginative coloring, neatness and originality. Decisions of the judges will be final. The Times will not be responsible for entries lost or damaged in the mails. Drawings will become the property of the Times and cannot be returned.
8. Contest winners will be announced and prizes will be awarded on or before Dec. 20.

World Bowling Meet Billed for Friday At 7 P.M. Channel 4

Canada's Yvon Durelle Fights Wednesday: James Mason Playhouse 90 Star

Next week Victoria viewers will have to depend mostly upon the regular shows and some interesting sporting events for their TV highlights.

For instance, fight fans should note that their Friday night fight has been taken over by the first annual World's Invitational match. Monday, The Studio match will be two parts of a long, shown in two parts on successive Mondays. Viewers who missed seeing the best trundlers in the world, will last one hour, commencing with Walt Disney's excellent science film, "Mars and Beyond," may want to pick it up in repeat form Wednesday at 7:30. Channels 6 and 2.

And on Thursday, a strong Anne, who has been a strong lobster fisherman has every net, will be seen in Playhouse 90's "The Thundering Wave," which is a 10-round bout in the division.

And, finally for sports, hockey takes over Channel 13 at 8:30 only in their acting careers, not Friday night when Seattle Americans play the New Westminster Royals.

Other interesting shows on tap include Canada's Arthur play his ex-wife's father.

MONDAY

7:00: Channel 4: Twenty-Six in Arthur Hailey's two-part play, "No Deadly Medicine." The director decides to make the hospital up to date, especially the fire-eating Dr. Pearson.

Channel 5: I Search for Adventure. About how the hell Gracie tries to cheer up Konnie's pal Ralph who has gal trouble.

7:30: Channel 4: The Price Is Right.

Channel 11, 12: Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts.

8:00: Channel 4: Restless Gun. A gambler returns to pick up his son after the news that he has been killed in a "Court Trial."

Channel 5: Gay Mitchell hosts Dolores Hawkins, Marjorie Ray, also the Redheads.

Channels 11, 12: Danny Thomas. Teenage Terry wants Danny to play the role of an elegant gentleman.

8:30: Channel 4: Wells Fargo. Jim Hardie looks for the man who killed a Wells Fargo messenger.

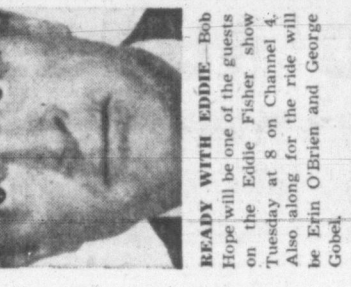

Channel 5: Bold Journey cameras visit the French penal colony on Devil's Island.

9:00: Channel 4: Twenty-One Quiz.

Channel 5: Baritone Robert Merrill is guest on the Firestone concert program.

Channel 11: Lee J. Cobb stars in "The Price of Fear."

INTERVIEWED TONIGHT — Well-known Washington columnist Drew Pearson is himself on the spot tonight when he is interviewed by Mike Wallace on Channel 5 at 10.

Strachan Berates Ottawa Soft Soap

CCF leader Robert Strachan accused the federal government Friday night of trying to soft-soap the people into believing there is nothing wrong with the economy.

In a speech before close to 200 members of the Esquimalt and Saanich constituency associations, he ticked off "fancy $64 phrases" such as "moderate decline" and "minor adjustments."

"For the men who are unemployed, this depression is just as bad as it can get," he said.

"If ever there was a blind faith in monopoly enterprise, the prime minister has exemplified that when he says there is nothing serious, just 'minor adjustments' in the economy."

NEWS LIKE 1929

Mr. Strachan said present newspaper headlines about slumping markets and industrial closures are similar to those of 1929.

"And Mr. Diefenbaker's statements are almost a direct parallel to those made by president Herbert Hoover in '29."

TRAGIC FOOTNOTE

The opposition leader described the B.C. brief presented at Ottawa by Premier Bennett last week as a "tragic footnote" to 1932, when the CCF was founded.

"The brief requested that the federal government provide some work or give material assistance to the unemployed."

"After 25 years of private enterprise we've come full circle, back to the ideas that led to the founding of the CCF."

PR MEN HIT

Mr. Strachan hit out at "public relations men fronting for the big companies who are doing a masterful job of dividing the people."

"They set country against country, and group against group."

"They get us fighting amongst ourselves, and that's the way they like it."

The CCF has a "gigantic task," Mr. Strachan said, to try to correct the blunders made by other political leaders.

First objective of a CCF planned economy would be to eliminate unemployment, he said.

WANT A DOG? HAVE TO TAKE TWO OF THESE

As a famous philosopher no doubt once said, the only thing better than a dog around the house is two dogs around the house.

And some fortunate Victorians today has the opportunity to acquire a pair of well-trained, healthy, perfectly mannered dogs, each a little over two years old, who have been brought up together since puppyhood.

For personal reasons, the present owners must part with the pair; the stipulation is that whoever adopts them must take both—or that they go to neighboring homes, so they can be together.

One is a black spaniel, male, the other a white cross terrier, spayed female.

More information on Mr. Black and Miss White can be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Leslie Belfitt, 3-1033.

Licence Too High, Theatre to Close

Management of Victoria's Fox Theatre advised city council today trades licence payment are forcing it to close its doors.

Although a new scale has reduced licence fees for 1958 by 50 per cent, the theatre has difficulty meeting the 1957 fee of $400.

"...are we to have this tax adjusted on a more realistic basis, or do you intend to close us down altogether because of our inability to give you your pound of flesh? We have done our best," said a letter from the theatre.

U.S.-BRITAIN WILL BUILD MISSILE SITES

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times says Britain and the United States have agreed to build and man four sites for intermediate range ballistic missiles in Britain.

Defence Secretary Neil McElroy told the Senate preparedness subcommittee Nov. 27 that the United States expects to have the 1,500-mile range missiles in service in Britain by the end of 1958.

McElroy already has ordered the country's two intermediate range missiles—the air force's Thor and the army's Jupiter—into military production for operational use. They still are being tested.

Battles End for Mickey O'Rourke, VC

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mickey O'Rourke's life was a series of battles—against the Germans during the First World War when he won the Victoria Cross, against police in a waterfront clash, and not the least against those who wanted to praise his exploits.

Friday, Mickey's battles ended. He died at the age of 82, leaving behind a reputation as one of the most colorful of Canada's war heroes, if not the most sociable.

Mickey once called himself "an old blatherskite" and the description seemed to fit his sorties into public view.

The instance that prompted his self-description was in 1951 when he refused to be presented to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

NO CLOTHES
My legs aren't so good," Mickey said by way of reason why the Royal couple wouldn't want to meet him, "and the sea-bag with all my clothes in it is being held at my last rooming-house so I can't get at it."

Born Michael James O'Rourke in Dublin, Mickey ran up a series of exploits in France with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces that earned him the VC.

the Distinguished Conduct Medal and the Military Medal. He was the oldest person in the First World War to win the VC. Mickey was 42 when, in battle in France, he spent three days and nights bringing in wounded companions from under heavy shell and sniper fire. A month later he cleaned out a German position at a Moquay farm in a solo action with rifle and hand grenades.

In May, 1918, he was sent to Oregon to help sell Liberty Bonds and, while there, was advised he had won the DCM.

He didn't tell anyone. The director of the campaign had to wire to Vancouver for facts on O'Rourke's record so he could be properly lionized by the public.

During a waterfront dock strike here during the depression, Mickey took Union Jack in hand and led a parade of strikers into a fierce battle with mounted police.

Of his years on the waterfront, Vancouver newspaperman Bob Bouchette said: "He wanted it." Mickey got it.

gave away 60 cents of every dollar he ever earned."

When the centenary of the VC was to be celebrated last year in London, Mickey counted himself out. It was all a trick to get him into mental hospital, he said, but was finally talked into going.

At one time, eating in the Savoy Hotel there, he asked for bread and butter. The waiter said "high society" did not have bread and butter with its meals.

"Well I'm low society and I don't want it," Mickey got it.

NEW ADDITION TO STRATHCONA HOTEL

One of two new rooms recently opened by the Strathcona Hotel. Designed for use as private dining rooms, reception or sample rooms there is accommodation for some twenty-five diners. Delicious foods, prepared in the Strathcona kitchens are served by means of a new "Wagon Unit" with heated and refrigerated compartments. These rooms are proving most popular for dining parties and small banquets, wedding receptions and business conferences.

LOSE SOMETHING, WALT?

Looking for ball after Missouri's great centre, John Stephens (25), had blocked his shot is John Mangham. Stephens came from behind to knock ball down as Marquette forward went

THE SCOREBOARD BY Harry Grayson

CHICAGO (NEA)—Because there are 20 million active bowlers in the country, the first annual world match game championships pre-empt the Friday night fight on television, December 13.

The fight fan won't be disappointed. He'll see a vastly superior show from Chicago.

This will be the tense finals of the match game bowling championships, which will have been in progress for some 98 previous games throughout eight previous days and nights. The 16 men and 16 women survivors of original fields of 160 and 64 will have rolled 100 and 56 games, respectively, by the time the resin dust settles.

The largest audience ever to watch bowling—some 25 million viewers of a 215-station network in the United States, Canada and Cuba—will see the windup of as grueling a test of skill and endurance as sport has to offer. Another 226 radio stations will carry an account of the finals to additional millions.

It is not unusual for a star bowler to roll 80 games a week and that keeps him in shape. Yet for a tournament such as the match game championships, which started Wednesday, many of the contestants train like a boxer.

It might be assumed that lifting and throwing a 16-pound black beauty 1,500 times during the course of 100 games, for a total weight of 12 tons, might have an erosive effect on the arm. The marathon brings on occasional attacks of something like tennis elbow. But the biggest complaints concern worn-out legs, unhinged knees and very sore thumbs.

Joe Wilman, 51-year-old Chicago veteran of 38 years on the hardwood lanes, has this formula: Bowl 70 games a week for six weeks. Do roadwork every morning and get eight hours' sleep every night for two weeks before the tournament.

"In past nationals," Wilman points out, "we had to go up two steps from our bench to the approach. Averaging 15 times a game for 100 games, that's 1,500 steps. Figuring 16 steps to a floor, that's like walking to the top of a 94-story building, 16 floors per day. This year we go up only one step, so it'll only be a 47-story building."

"After that, of course, the bowler has to pick up his ball, go to the approach, bowl and go back down to the bench. Do that for 100 games and any weak spots begin to show up."

Regardless of how carefully a bowler prepares, he can't be sure of going the route. A couple of years ago, Buzz Fazio of St. Louis was progressing smoothly through the early rounds, got his rubdown and massage after his day's stint, and repaired to a barber shop. The barber flicked his razor to get rid of excess lather, and managed to flick a divot out of the knuckle of Fazio's right thumb. That was the end of Fazio in the tournament.

The men's field in the match game championships includes nine former national champions, among them the three-time king, Don Carter, of St. Louis. On the distaff side are the only three national champions produced in eight years—Marion Ladewig, six-time winner from Grand Rapids, Mich.; Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, and Detroit's Anita Cantaline.

The final outcome has been known to come down to the final roll of the 10th frame of the 100th game, generating a high degree of excitement.

With the total purse more than $30,000—80 per cent higher than any previous match game tournament, those of America's 20 million bowlers who tune in along with millions of fight fans who may become converts to kegling as a result—could see something akin to the last round of a hard-fought championship fight.

The two survivors of crack shots carefully picked from the United States, Canada and Hawaii will be dead game athletes. Hurting everywhere, they will fight off incipient exhaustion for that final hour bid for gold and glory.

Saanich Breaks Ice; Totems Still Unbeaten

Undeclared Victoria Totems, extended their five-game win streak in the High School Senior Basketball League Friday by defeating a fighting third-place St. Louis College team 31-23 at Mt. Newton High.

Driving for a berth in the Lower Island tournament, North Saanich came up with their first win of the season by downing University School 48-22.

Moving into a 13-0 first-quarter lead, Vic High saw their margin cut to eight points before the half.

Totems were led by lanky Darel Lormier with 10 points while Ted Delporte topped St. Louis with seven.

Cougar Fans Schedule Next Meeting, Dance

Next meeting of the Victoria Cougar Fan Club will be held at Memorial Arena Dec. 17.

Three days later, the club will sponsor its first event—a dance at the Golden Slipper.

The dance is open to the public and tickets may be obtained at the Cougar ticket office or from club members.

FLYERS UPSET

Sid Doesn't Like Cellar or Buffalo

EDMONTON (CP)—Calgary Stampedeers can thank their lucky stars today that centre Sid Finney prefers the chinooks of the foothills to the weather in Buffalo.

The smooth pivot, playing with his hometown Stamps only because he refused to report to Buffalo's entry in the American Hockey League may be the man coach Frank Currie needs to lead the Cowboys out of the Prairie Division cellar in the Western Hockey League.

Stylish Sid scored two brilliant goals Friday to spark his team's 5-4 victory over Edmonton Flyers and lift the Canucks to within one point of third-place Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals.

BIG COUNTERS

Finney blasted the tying and winning goals before 3,500 fans. Chuck Blair also scored two for Stampedeers and Fred Hucul notched the other. For Flyers, Len Lunde tallied twice, with Dennis Olson and rearguard Frank Roggeveen scoring singles.

Edmonton took a 3-1 lead in a rough first period, but Calgary tied the count, 4-4, in the second. The lone penalty in an exciting third period broke the game. Chuck Holmes was called off the ice for slashing. One minute later, Finney swooped across the blue line and scored on a high shot.

Flyers, who outshot Calgary 38-16, melted the ice in the last five minutes trying to beat Calgary netminder Al Rollins. In the last minute of play Flyers took at least five shots with the game ending with an 11-man pileup in front of Rollins.

Bitter checking resulted in five penalties for each team.

IN GOOD STANDING

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union voted to restore champion hurdler Lee Calhoun to good standing next Aug. 9. This will be one year after he was suspended for accepting gifts for TV appearances.

Gabe Appears Convinced Hurlers Help

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Cincinnati general manager Gabe Paul, who tried and failed to build a baseball pennant winner on power alone, apparently has become convinced that pitching helps a little, too.

Making good on his promise to sacrifice power for mound strength, he added his fifth new pitcher in three days Friday night when he acquired southpaw Harvey Haddix from Philadelphia Phillies in exchange for outfielder Wally Post.

The trade was Cincinnati's third in three days and each of the transactions brought the Redlegs at least one pitcher. Paul began by purchasing left-hander Bill Wright from Baltimore Wednesday night. The next day he traded a pair of outfielders to St. Louis for veteran righthander Willard Schmidt and rookies Marty Kutyna and Ted Wieland.

He hit the jackpot with the acquisition of Haddix, one of the outstanding left-handers in the National League during the last five years. Harvey had a 10-13 win-loss record for the Phillies last year, but a back injury was chiefly responsible for his sub-par season.

The 32-year-old hurler, a 20-game winner with St. Louis Cardinals in 1953 has never failed to win at least 12 games in any of his five years in the majors up to last season.

Chan's Streak Paces Paddlers

Gordon Chan is riding one of the hottest win streaks ever recorded in Victoria Table Tennis Club play.

Chan has run up an amazing 30 wins in 30 matches for a perfect average.

Running a close second is Brian Hobbs with a 22-2, 916 record, followed by Ray Greenwood with 31-7.

Godwin Chan (20-0), 1,000; 2. Brian Hobbs (22-2), 816; 3. Ray Greenwood (21-7), 415; 4. George Clark (24-4), 390; 5. Keith Olson (12-4), 730; 6. Don Rhoad (12-4), 723; 7. Ray Dawson (19-7), 730; 8. Rick Gough (16-6), 727; 9. Wally Bowden (24-12), 681; 10. Keith Lorie (13-13), 657; 11. Rick Actall (20-14), 584; 12. Martin Woods (18-14), 580; 13. Irv Bruce (16-14), 535; 14. Nancy Craig (11-11), 530; 15. Ann Chin (19-21), 475.

Cougars Host Americans Here Tonight

Two former National Hockey League performers have Western Hockey League officials busy re-writing the league record books today after leading Vancouver Canucks to an 11-4 triumph over New Westminster Royals at Vancouver Forum.

Phil Maloney, who saw service with Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs, and ex-New York Ranger Jackie McLeod each scored eight points in Friday night's rout.

McLeod's four goals and four assists and Maloney's two-six combination broke by one the old WHL record of seven points a game.

George Agar of Calgary counted four goals and three assists in 1952 and the mark was matched by Vancouver's Ray Cyr in 1956.

SIX ASSISTS RECORD

Maloney's six helpers is also a record. The previous mark of five was scored by New Westminster's Dutch Evers in 1950 and since equalled by 10 players.

The eight-point spree also erased the season's former high mark of five points in one game, set by Victoria's Eddie Dorohoy here last Saturday and pushed Maloney into a tie for first place in the league scoring race.

Maloney jumped from sixth place to share the top spot with New Westminster's Gordie Fashway at 30 points, one point in front of Dorohoy and Len Lunde of Edmonton, who collected a goal and an assist as the Flyers dropped a 5-4 decision to Calgary Friday night.

AMERKS HERE TONIGHT

Dorohoy, riding on the crest of a sizzling scoring spurge that has produced 11 points in his last three games, will get a chance to move ahead when the Cougars host Seattle Americans at Memorial Arena tonight.

Maloney will also continue his gunning as the Canucks move over to New Westminster for a return clash with the Royals and the last-place Cougars will be hoping for a Vancouver win as they attempt to close the gap on the Royals and third-place Americans.

Now trailing the Amerks by 11 points, Cougars can slice the deficit to nine points with their fourth successive victory tonight. And if they win and the Royals lose, the Cats will have lost only three more games than the Royal City crew.

Cougars, who beat the Amerks, 4-2, at Seattle last Sunday, have yet to trim coach Keith Allen's club on Victoria ice.

BACK ON TOP

Friday's win pushed Vancouver back into first place in the Coast Division, one point ahead of the Royals, who were playing without Fashway.

Goalie Bev Bentley, who appeared to have a hex on the Canucks as he held them to one goal in three previous games and had kept them off the score sheet for one stretch of 149 minutes and 56 seconds, was helpless before the flying Canucks.

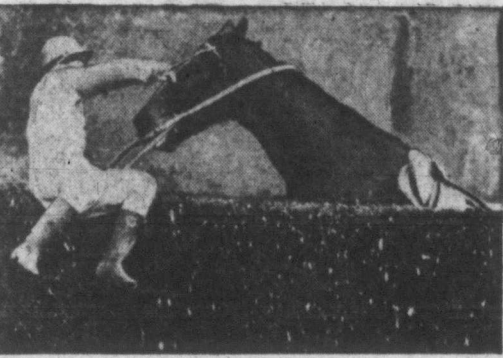

It was two goals by McLeod in the final minute of play that rewrote the record book. On each, Maloney was at his elbow.

In all, the Maloney-centred line of McLeod and rookie Bob Robinson picked up 19 scoring points. Robinson, a 20-year-old left-winger from Guelph, Biltmore, scored once and clicked for two assists.

FRANKS RETURNS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Herman Franks, the 43-year-old former catcher coached for five years under Leo Durocher and resigned when Durocher quit the Giants. He came back to the Giants last year as a scout.

SEE, NOTHING TO IT!

Nonchalant Charley Guest is doing his darndest to convince Pouliot that there's nothing to clearing a barrier. They started off together in steeplechase at Plumpton, Eng., but when mount balked at this hedge, Charley took off on his own, landing with flourish of his whip and still holding reins. (NEA.)

Give Her a Famous "Sunbeam" Appliance from the BAY!

Gleaming Beauty—Practical Kitchen Asset . . . a New

Sunbeam Frying Pan

With Encircling Element!

19 <sup>95</sup>	21 <sup>95</sup>	25 <sup>95</sup>

With Lids

For a quick meal—a party snack—you'll want a beautiful Sunbeam frying pan that stews, pan-broils, braises and fries food to perfection . . . The guaranteed element completely encircles the bottom, distributes heat evenly so that food is properly and thoroughly cooked . . . For perfect heat control there's an ever-accurate thermostat that keeps the cooking temperature at the right degree, always. Of gleaming, easy-to-clean aluminum, the pan can be popped right into sudsy water without fear of harming the element, since it's completely enclosed . . . Here's practical beauty that's a year-round joy . . . and she'll love one for Christmas!

Irons Everything! Sunbeam
Steam and Dry Iron
16<sup>95</sup>

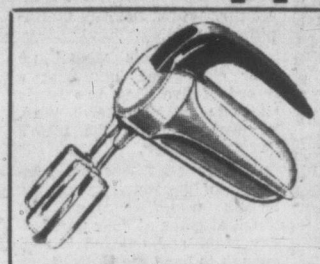

Thumb-tip control—all you have to do is set your Sunbeam, steam and dry at the temperature you want and you'll find that those articles of clothing that need the most delicate touch (lingerie, nylon blouses, rayons) to those that need a higher degree of heat (linens, cottons, denims), look like new after just the briefest touch! Stainless steel water tank won't rust or corrode, the iron heats in 30 seconds, and maintains the right degree, always!

Automatic Percolators
"Signal" When Coffee's Done!

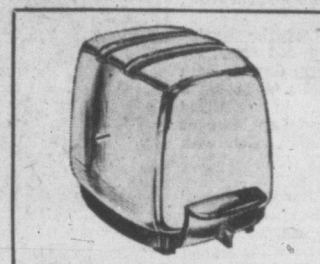

8-cup size, each	10-cup size, each
32 <sup>95</sup>	34 <sup>95</sup>

Coffee turns out just the way you want it when you use the special strength-selector dial that indicates weak, strong or medium brew! Made of gleaming copper, nickel and gleaming chrome, the new, streamlined Sunbeam automatic makes a "quick cup" signal via a tiny light when the coffee is finished to your satisfaction.

Sunbeam Hand Mixers . . .
Light, Easy to Handle
21<sup>95</sup>

Whip up cloud-like batters in just seconds with a new Sunbeam mixer . . . It folds, blends, stirs, mixes, beats and whips, solves tedious, time-consuming blending by hand! Finished with big, light beaters, thumb-tip control and convenient wall hanger, the new Sunbeam comes in kitchen colors of white, yellow, turquoise, pink.

Automatic Radiant-Control
Toasters by Sunbeam!
30<sup>95</sup>

Hot and tasty toast made the quick 'n' easy way when you pop your bread slices into the new Sunbeam that works smoothly, silently and automatically! Finished with a hinged crumb tray, color selector, this gleaming aluminum, trouble-free toaster offers long-time wear, bright beauty for your kitchen.

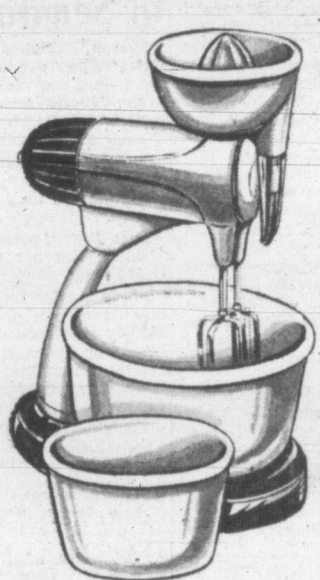

Sunbeam Dry Ironmaster
Heats in Just 20 Seconds
9<sup>95</sup>

So light weight and easy to handle, this compact little iron practically "goes" by itself . . . With its special soleplate that's smooth as a mirror for best possible results, you'll find that this 2-lb. convenience with its cool, always comfortable handle and convenient heel rest couldn't be easier to use!

Toast Sandwiches, Make
Waffles on a Sunbeam Grill!
39<sup>95</sup>

No muss, no fuss, no bother, but a quick 'n' easy batch of waffles when you use this beautiful new Sunbeam waffle baker and grill that's finished with easy-to-change plates, an overflow rim, and gleaming, no-trouble-to-clean chrome plate . . . A signal light flashes when the grill is pre-heated to the correct temperature for four big size waffles, turns on again when the waffles are done!

Thoroughly Mixed Batters Mean High-Rising Cakes of Even Texture!

Use a Sunbeam
Mixmaster
49<sup>95</sup>

Easy to use, easy to care for, that's the Sunbeam Mixmaster that starts and stops at the flick of a finger! In easy-to-clean, kitchen brightening shades of white, yellow, turquoise or pink, the mixmaster comes complete with a guaranteed motor, automatic speed control, large bowl-fitting beaters, and an automatic beater ejector that means cleaning couldn't be simpler! You'll get beautiful cakes of even consistency, light as air meringues, succulent cookies, delectable angel-food cakes and fluffy omelettes when you use this new Sunbeam that makes baking a pleasure!

Woman Accused Of Jewel Theft

$3,000 Necklace Stolen

Elizabeth Speed, 2621 Doncaster, was charged in city police court today with theft of a diamond and emerald bracelet valued at $3,000.

The bracelet was stolen Sept. 30 from Marianne Koerner, Vancouver, wife of Walter C. Koerner, a director of Alaska Pine and Cellulose Ltd. and one of B.C.'s wealthiest men.

The theft occurred at a local hotel. Mrs. Speed is represented by Robert J. Harvey.

Mr. Harvey asked a week's delay for election of trial but was refused by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The accused will appear again Monday. Robert Clifford McMullen and Thomas Peter Baxter, no fixed address, also appeared in court charged with theft of 15 metal coils from Capital Iron and Metals Ltd., 1832 Store Street.

The theft was under $50 value. Both men, represented by Alan Bigelow, were remanded to Tuesday for plea.

STORM PASSES WEATHERSHIP ON WAY HERE; RAIN TONIGHT

A storm that passed the weathership at noon will give rain tonight, and winds up to 25 miles per hour, weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

It will go through Victoria before daybreak Sunday, and will leave intermittent showers and partial clearing in its wake, he said.

Winds Sunday will be southwesterly at 15 miles, and temperatures will range between 38 and 45 degrees.

Lessons Learned At School Help Boys Escape Fire

Lessons learned in school saved a 12-year-old boy and his five-year-old brother from a fire which caused an estimated $2,000 damage at their home Friday night.

Michael McGimpsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Des McGimpsey, 5026 Lochside, was looking after his brother, Brian, while their parents were out for the evening.

When smoke from an electrical fire filled the house at 11 p.m., Michael sent the younger boy outside and tried to call firemen.

Unable to contact the telephone operator, the older boy rushed with his brother next door to the home of the Misses Violet Hearn and Rhoda Thomas, 5020 Lochside, who called Saanich fire department.

It was Michael's first experience with a fire but the tow-headed lad was master of the situation.

"I've been looking after Brian ever since he was born, I guess," the boy said matter-of-factly today.

NOT ASLEEP
"It was just before 11 and I was sitting up with Brian in the bedroom. He was in bed but not asleep."

"I smelled smoke and opened the door to the living room. I found the chesterfield was burning, and the table leg, too."

"I got my brother out of the house first. He just had a sweater on and I just had an undershirt so I put on a pair of trousers."

The fire truck was there and pumping water by 11:05, Michael said.

Fire department said a table lamp had short-circuited, then probably fell over onto the chesterfield.

Smoke blackened most of the house, windows and mirrors cracked from the heat, a rug was burned, plaster damaged and pictures ruined.

REAL MESS
"It was a pretty horrible mess to come home to," Mrs. McGimpsey said.

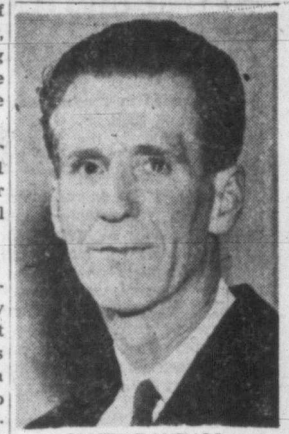

"We're thankful the boys got out, though. That's the main thing."

The McGimpseys arrived home from a movie at about 11:20 and found firemen mopping up.

A grade six pupil at Malvern House School, Michael was unfazed by the experience, although both boys admitted they were a little excited at the time.

"I got a good night's sleep," Michael grinned.

The family spent the night with Mrs. McGimpsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cummings, 3367 Salsbury Way.

JAMES RANDALL

Defence Workers' President Named For Third Term

James Randall has been elected to his third term as president of the Vancouver Island branch, National Defence Employees Association.

Executive members are T. G. Dalzell, first vice-president; C. Lewis, second vice-president; F. Cammiade, third vice-president; F. Slydell, correspondence secretary; W. O. Darling, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Jones, organizing secretary, and Miss D. Barlow, treasurer.

Elected to the executive to represent Civil Servants were F. Boon, HMC Dockyard, Mrs. E. E. Richardson, Naden, Miss D. Burgess, HMC Dockyard, and Miss M. Holyoak, HMC Dockyard.

Delegates to the NDEA convention in London, Ont., next August will be Mr. Randall, Miss M. Ralston, Mr. Slydell and Mr. Darling.

Mayor Accepts Honorary Post

Honorary presidency of Greater Victoria and District Safety Council, now being organized, was accepted today by Mayor Percy Scourrah.

The mayor said he is gravely concerned over traffic fatalities during the week and said there is a need for leading citizens and businesses to improve safety conditions in the area.

The chapter will concern itself with all aspects of safety, but pedestrian and traffic safety in particular. The three deaths in traffic in 21 hours this week indicates the urgency of a local safety program, president Roy H. Lund said.

Man Wounded By Own Rifle Faces Charge

Edward Dick, 21, of the Songhees Reserve, who shot himself in the thigh as he walked along Admirals Road Thursday night, will be charged with possession of a sawed-off rifle, Colwood RCMP said today.

The offence carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment.

"Dick was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the small calibre bullet was removed from his leg. The wound was not serious."

Police said Dick told them he had been having trouble with prowlers around his home and carried the weapon for protection.

The gun was stuck through his belt and down one trouser leg when it went off, police said.

MONDAY MEETINGS

Gyros: 12 noon, Empress Hotel. The role of the Defence Research Board and Pacific Naval Laboratory in Canadian defence will be described by Dr. W. L. Ford.

British Israel World Federation: 3 p.m., YWCA recreation room. Talk, "A Tour of Britain," illustrated with slides will be given by E. W. Berry.

TOO SMALL; NO VISION

Foes of Tories Score Tax Cuts

Victoria's Conservative MP, A. D. B. McPhillips has been urged to "speak up" against the tax changes announced Friday because, they did not go far enough.

The request was made in a wire sent today by the city's Liberal MLA George Gregory.

"As constituents," the wire said, "we remind you of your solemn and often-repeated election pledge to crusade for substantially reduced taxes and complete elimination of automobile excise taxes and look forward to your speaking up in the House."

The wire was signed by Mr. Gregory and his law partners Allan Cox and Robert J. Harvey.

In Vancouver, Provincial CCF Leader Robert Strachan also attacked the tax changes as "completely without vision."

"There is no indication at all of their providing the millions of dollars required for projects to put our unemployed back to work again," said Mr. Strachan.

Liberal Leader Arthur Laing said Finance Minister Donald Fleming is "not being realistic" in predicting a surplus on this year's fiscal operation.

$12,000 Donated In Seal Campaign
In less than one month, the Christmas Seal campaign, conducted by the British Columbia Tuberculosis Society, has received $12,000 from Greater Victoria residents.

Letters of appeal, containing Christmas seals, have been sent to 26,000 households, campaign chairman Mrs. J. U. Kimmitt said. Those who have been missed may phone Christmas Seal headquarters at 2-4222, or call at Room 14, 749 Broughton.

Bright Yule Show Jaycee Proposal
The city will look more festive than ever if the Junior Chamber of Commerce goes ahead with its plan to enhance Victoria's downtown Christmas decorations.

The Jaycees have a plan whereby Christmas messages made up of lighted metal letters will be strung across all the approaches of downtown streets.

A decorated lighted sign also will be erected at the Jaycee headquarters on Wharf Street.

Bob Carrier, chairman of the city beautification committee, said the lighted manger scene may be placed at the Royal Jubilee Hospital instead of the Kiwanis Village. More people would see it there, he said.

At the Kiwanis Village, decorations would be installed to replace the manger scene.

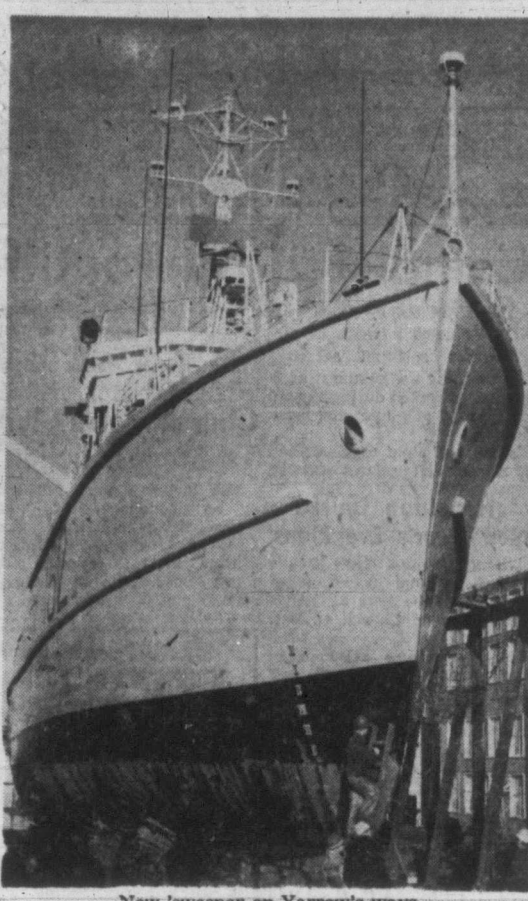

Meanwhile, the Jaycees have distributed hundreds of entry forms for the Christmas lighting contest opened to all householders in the Greater Victoria area.

The entry forms must be in by Dec. 15. Judging will start Dec. 22.

Pitlamping Charges Dismissed
Charges of pitlamping Nov. 15 on Glinz Lake Road, laid against two Victorians were dismissed in Sooke police court today by Magistrate Fred Thornber.

In court were Harry Mobe, 1455 Denman, and his brother, Bernard Mobe, 1119 North Park. Evidence in the case was given last week, and decision had been deferred until today.

The two men pleaded not guilty to having had a female deer in their possession out of season. Trial on this charge will be held at Sooke next Saturday.

Shipmaster Hugh Halkett, Capt.-designate G. W. S. Brooks.

VESSEL ON TRIALS SERVES TWO MASTERS

Cowichan to Join Navy Thursday

By MONTE ROBERTS
It's the prime rule of the sea that one man, and one man only, must bear the burden and responsibility of command.

But this rule comes perilously close to being broken during one stage of a ship's life.

This is the period known as builder's trials, just prior to the day she is turned over to her new owners—the shipyard that built her.

During these trials, the ship is in charge of a master employed by the owners—let also aboard, with a watchful, protective eye, is the man who will be her captain.

In the case of the Yarrow-built minesweeper Cowichan, now finishing builder's trials prior to commissioning next Thursday, the official master is Hugh Halkett, 3225 Doncaster. He's an assistant rigger at the Esquimalt yard, and he will be master of the Cowichan until she commissions at 3 p.m.

Then the man who has been a passenger during trials will take command. He is Lieut.-Cmdr. George W. S. Brooks, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., now a resident of Victoria.

At 32, Lieut.-Cmdr. Brooks is one of the younger officers to have command of his own ship. A graduate of Canadian Services College Royal Roads, he is believed to be the first of his graduating class to be given permanent command of an operational ship in the RCN.

Polio Took Holiday This Year
Polio took a holiday in British Columbia this year.

Provincial health authorities reported Friday there have been only 41 cases during 1957, none of them fatal.

This compares with 82 cases last year and an average of 362 during the last five years.

From 300,000 to 400,000 persons have been inoculated with Salk vaccine so far in the province, principally school children.

"We feel there certainly has been a reduction in the number of cases but because of the polio cycle it is unwise to give all the credit to immunization—such an assumption would not be scientifically sound," says Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health.

A Canadian Press survey shows there have been less than half as many polio cases and deaths across the country this year as last year at this time.

There have been only 16 deaths this year, compared with 34 in 1956.

New Charge Facing Hungarians
Two Hungarian immigrants who pleaded guilty Friday to theft of 82 items from a department store Thursday night are wanted by Trail RCMP on a charge of assault causing bodily harm.

City police said they would serve warrants for the RCMP on Laszlo Papp, 25, and Adam Miskel, 18, when their theft case is disposed of next Thursday.

A search of Miskel's room at 12224 Yates disclosed a small gun of a type used at sporting events. The Trail police message to city police mentioned a gun.

The pair admitted taking more than 60 wrist watches, two pens, a cap, clothing, silver spoon, string of pearls, four pairs of earrings, a bracelet and watch strap, all from Hudson's Bay Co. store.

River Commission Chief to Meet Bennett Dec. 16
Douglas McKay, new U.S. chairman of the International Joint Commission, will confer with Premier Bennett here Dec. 16, the premier's office said today.

A spokesman said discussions will centre around hastening Columbia River hydro development and the proposed $250,000,000 Mica Creek Dam in British Columbia.

Mr. McKay, a former governor of Oregon, was U.S. Secretary of the Interior until last year.

OUR VERY OWN ISLAND DIGEST

(Written by hand by Our Very Own Correspondents.)

WOBBLE HILL, V.I.—After many years of bitter disagreement, the Downtown Progressive Merchants, Retailers, and Coffee Shop Proprietors' Association has reached agreement with the Uptown Progressive Merchants, Retailers, and Coffee Shop Proprietors' Association.

Under the agreement, the two groups will amalgamate, and will form the Downtown-Uptown Progressive Merchants, Retailers, and Coffee Shop Proprietors' Association.

The reason for the amalgamation was, nobody could find out which was downtown and which was uptown, this being a sort of between town.

Also, all the merchants, retailers, and coffee shop proprietors in Wobble Hill consist of Lem Fadd, and Lem decided it would be asler to amalgamate himself instead of fighting all the time.

LUNCHVILLE, V.I.—Plans are well under way for a gala celebration this coming Yuletide.

A hard-working committee has worked hard to arrange something different this year. Instead of the usual party for children, the children will stage a party for adults.

Many famous personalities of stage, screen, radio, and TV have been invited to entertain at this party, including Bing Crosby, Bob Crosby, Garry Crosby, Larry Crosby, and Mrs. Bing Crosby (she will be asked to play the part of one of the children).

None of the famous personalities will accept the invitation, but still . . .

CUTTING CORNERS, V.I.—Cutting Corners citizens held an indignation meeting last night when they heard the government down to Ottawa was reducing the income tax.

The Cutting Corners citizens want to know what the government is up to. They regard this as rank discrimination against Cutting Corners citizens, as Cutting Corners citizens have no income to tax.

WALLOPEM BEACH, V.I.—The Wallopem Beach Get-Out-the-Vote Committee is planning a Monster Rally to drum up interest in the coming municipal elections.

However, not many Monsters are expected to attend, this being the off-season, like.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Pre-Christmas pay parade for the 40th Technical Squadron RCNEM (M) will take place at Bay Street Armory Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Shooting after sunset cost Roger Everett Buller $10 and $3 costs in Colwood RCMP court Friday.

For consuming liquor in a public place, Charles Gray McKinnon, RCN, and George William Day, 1342 Pandora, were fined $50 each in Oak Bay police court Friday.

An Esquimalt High School graduate Brian Capon, 3451 Doncaster Drive, was recently elected treasurer of the senior class of 1958 at La Sierra College, Arlington, California.

Majoring in biology and chemistry, he plans to do research work after graduation from the four year Seventh-day Adventist liberal arts college.

ASK THE TIMES

Q—What is the name of the star that at present seems so large and shines so brilliantly over the southern horizon these evenings?—F. W. K.

A—The planet Venus. Every couple of years it comes closer to the earth than during its normal orbit around the sun, and the reflective cloud layers bring out the brilliance.

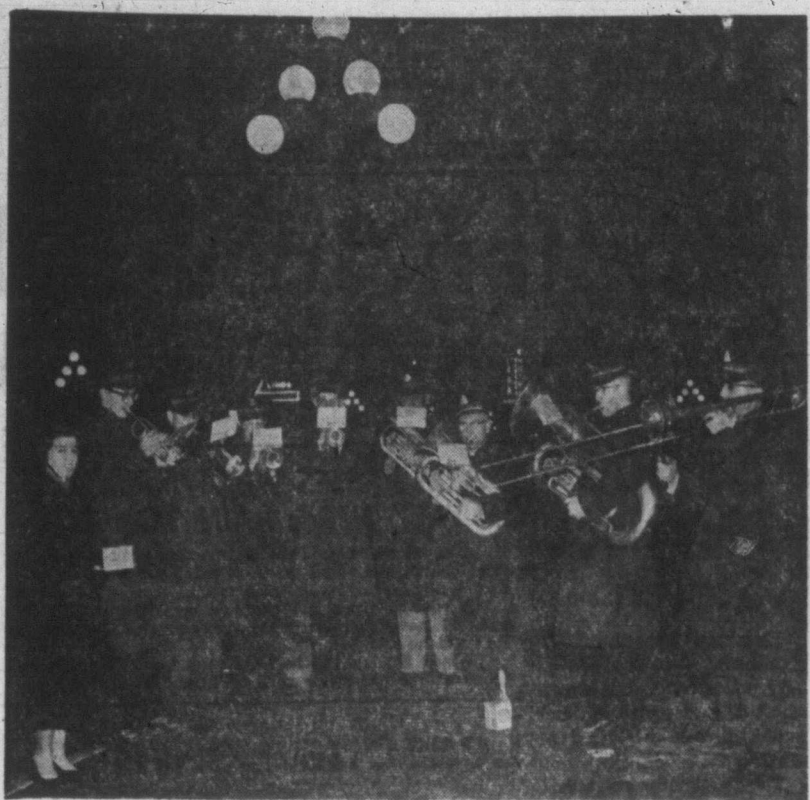

Q—When did Malaya achieve her actual independence?—D. T.

A—On Aug. 31 this year. The Malaya states had been a British protectorate since 1948.

Q—Is wishing a question answered to send the question along to the publisher of "Ask The Times" Editor, Questions and Answers. The Times does not undertake to solve questions.

LOVELY MUSIC of Christmas will be brought to Greater Victoria homes next week by the senior band of the Salvation Army, pictured above. Starting Monday the band will perform in different areas of the city. Junior band began last Thursday. Two Salvation Army girls, Joan Bartlett and Linda Nelson, will collect money for general SA expenses and the band fund. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

THE CITY OF VICTORIA NEEDS A SOUND, PROGRESSIVE, EXPERIENCED COUNCIL

Alderman Millard H. Mooney

As Chairman of the City Council's Public Works Committee I have had charge of the city's biggest spending department.

For years I have been devoting myself to advancing the City's best interests in all divisions of civic business.

Naturally, Public Works matters have had my very special and energetic attention, and I am particularly anxious to continue my work in this most interesting field.

Many jobs have been completed by the Public Works Committee, the latest of which was the Point Ellice Bridge, whilst others are still in hand or projected.

If you consider that I have fulfilled my duties as a Councillor over the past five years then I NEED YOUR VOTE FOR RE-ELECTION.

MOONEY, MILLARD H. X

Pensioners' Rent Boost Deplored

Health Minister Eric Martin said Friday it is "deplorable" that some landlords have raised the rent of old-age pensioner tenants by their $9 monthly increase.

"He urged the landlords to allow the pensioners to keep the increase 'as it was intended to benefit them and help them meet the higher costs of food and other necessities of life.'"

(There have been no reports of rent increases by pensioners in Victoria, but a number of complaints have been made in Vancouver).

Mr. Martin also confirmed that the provincial government will sign an agreement with Ottawa to share the cost of the increase for 10,000 pensioners on old-age assistance, and disabled and blind persons' allowances.

The action was approved by the cabinet Friday. The increase will be retroactive to Nov. 1, he said.

December cheques have gone out already without the increase, but it will be included "as soon as possible," the minister said.

There's a feeling of excitement in the air as little children and grown-ups alike look ahead to the Christmas season. Many families will celebrate the Yuletide in new homes and they are looking forward to Christmas week with added excitement. In other homes there will be the joy of a first baby to make the occasion doubly exciting. It all adds up to a happy festive season!

JOIN YOUNG FAMILY CIRCLE HERE—Spending their first Christmas in their new Victoria home on Devon Road are Mrs. Robert James Harvey and Robbie, six, four-year-old John, and baby sister Elizabeth, two years old. They came with Mr. Harvey from Duncan earlier this year and moved into their Devon Road home in the autumn. Mr. Harvey, a lawyer, has joined the firm of Gregory, Grant, Cox and Harvey in this city. (Photo by Bill Halkett.)

IN HEIRLOOM CHRISTENING ROBE—Dale Bernie will wear his maternal great-grandmother's christening dress for his own christening on Sunday in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay. Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunns will officiate and godparents will be Mr. D. Panthorpe and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bailey. Dale, pictured with his mother, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Herbertson, 1950 Fairburn Drive. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Herbertson and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cross, all of Victoria. There will be a christening tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cross following the ceremony. ## A Bit of Wire, Some Brilliants, Two Side Combs, a Few Hours Work; Then You'll Look Like a Queen

BY KITTY DIXON

A glittering coronet of brilliants could take you through the Christmas party season in regal style.

Just picture yourself in your best ball gown, crowned by a filigree hairpiece of sparkling jewels!

Steady... this is not an ad for diamond coronets. I'm merely suggesting that you make your own... of rhinestones.

It can be done quite easily with a narrow plastic hair band, two "invisible" silvered wire combs, a roll of very fine wire (get it at any hobby shop) and a few packets of "sew-on" rhinestones.

All this will set you back about three dollars... a meagre price for a hair ornament that looks like a million!

Here's how to make the coronet:

First, you must realize that the clear plastic hair band is worn flat on top of your head, not hugging the head as it was intended to be worn.

To hold it secure, take two silver wire combs and with a bit of fine wire, bind one firmly to each end of the hair band, so they grip down into the hair, completely unseen.

Next step is making "filigree sprays" of brilliants.

Cut a piece of wire about five inches long and thread it through a sew-on rhinestone. Now, double the wire over, holding the stone at the doubled end, then twisting the wire until you have one delicate strand of twisted silver wire with a rhinestone drop at one end.

Five rhinestone drops later, twist the lot together to form a spray, nine of which are then attached to the hair bandeau, forming a glittering fringe of brilliants. Fine wire ends of the sprays are easily wound around the bandeau and with the aid of a good craft cement, will remain firm.

Your coronet will follow a more graceful line if you graduate sprays in height towards the centre.

Now, to cover unsightly wire ends and stray gobs of glue, hide the bandeau base with an even row of rhinestones.

Use "clamp-on" type stones this time, minus the clamps. You'll find they glue on more neatly than the sew-on stones, which have metal backings.

Rummage through your collection of costume jewelry and pick out any old rhinestone ornaments having teardrop shape stones which may be prised loose.

A few teardrops interspersed in filigree sprays add variation and elegance to the coronet.

To overcome difficulty encountered by lack of a metal base through which to wire the teardrop stones, make twisted wire strands without stones, leaving loops at the ends, into which you can glue teardrop rhinestones with a touch of hobbycraft cement.

Depending upon how you wear your hair, a bandeau sparkling with rhinestone sprays may be more flattering than a coronet.

Much simpler to make and almost as pretty, the bandeau looks best on the girl with free tresses, whether they be short or shoulder length. The more ornate coronet could be worn by the girl whose hair is trained to a chignon or French twist. To make the bandeau:

Follow directions for making filigree sprays for the coronet; attach them, overlapping slightly, along the same type of clear plastic bandeau used for the coronet.

Wire and glue sprays upwards from either end of the bandeau, so they meet at top.

Again, cover wire ends with glued rhinestones.

In one evening, you'll have made one of the most festive and feminine hair ornaments of the season!

More than likely, you end up making several more for gifts that are priceless... because they cannot be bought.

Pretty debutante, Mary Gail Achtem, models a hand-made coronet of sparkling rhinestones for holiday party wear. It was made for her from a narrow plastic hair band, fine wire, silvered combs and a narrow plastic hair band.

A bandeau of rhinestone drops glitters in Mary Gail's dark hair. This decorative ornament, for cocktail or dancing, was hand-made in one evening. (Photos by Irving Strickland.)

SHOPPING GUIDE

Don't Tramp Into Forest,
Buy Your Christmas Tree!

By PENNY SAVER

I know a father who picked out a large bushy Christmas tree in the deep dark forest that he planned to put in his living room.

But after all his planning to get the tree, he finds that neither he nor any other father can chop trees down unless they get permission from the owner of the land on which said tree grows. He doesn't know the owner. Heartbreaking isn't it?

Problem would be solved, however, if he'd come with me to a Christmas tree dealer I know. Bet we'll find a tree that would be the pride of his—or your—home!

Let's be a bit daring and original this year and buy a colored tree. It would brighten the Yuletide living room and certainly put you ahead of the Jones family.

A new and safe idea has been adopted in the painting of trees this season. The tall beauties are in brighter, gay shades and they have a finish of spun glass in liquid form. You know, spun glass is fireproof and a preservative.

At $3 a foot, you can have a gorgeous tree in your living room in shades of deep crimson, star silver, frothy pink, or apple green. Spun glass gives a tree a snowy texture. Decorate it simply, using large baubles of one color on the branches. What a pretty sight!

A local paint dealer has come up with a dandy suggestion for "do-it-yourself" fans. He maintains that painting one's own tree saves pennies. Also adds a little touch of amusement to father's day off!

Buy a can or two of colored paint with a "flat" finish and rent a spray gun. The paints come in dozens of colors at a variety of prices ranging from $2.25 a quart to $7.50 a gallon. Rental on the spray gun per day is $3.50.

Wreaths for doors and windows can be so attractive... especially the holly wreaths I've found with double backs. Both sides are covered with holly so the wreaths can be hung on a tree, lamp fixture in the ceiling, or in the doorway! They are selling at $3.25 up.

Let's dress up the house this Yule using all the old things with a new touch! Phone me at 2-3131.

"Don't pay the ransom, dear... I escaped!"

Institute Officers

Officers elected by acclamation at the annual meeting of the Lake Hill Women's Institute include Mrs. F. Sharples, president; Mrs. G. Howland, vice-president; Mrs. W. S. Buchanan, secretary; Mrs. F. D. Nuttall, treasurer; and Mrs. W. S. Webster and Mrs. H. H. Wilson, board members.

Retiring president and treasurer, Mrs. A. Sutherland and Mrs. R. W. Mercer received votes of thanks.

A cheque for $130 was forwarded to the Greater Victoria Senior Citizens Housing Society. Mrs. Howland and Mrs. M. Fetterly presented plans for the annual Christmas luncheon on December 16.

Holiday party dresses for the young are pretty to look at, offer lots of fashion, are slow to wrinkle or muss. This little girl (left) wears striped dress of chromspun with Empire bodice. Collar and cuffs are in solid color.

Big and little sister wear dresses alike (right) of chromspun. These are copied after the grown-up shirtwaist dress and have button-on velvet bodices that fit under the little fly-away tab on the shirtwaists.

Party Dresses for the Holidays

This year, little girls will go to festive holiday parties in dresses that are really dressy. Though the Victorian look lingers on, it's no longer prim. It's been given rustle, glitter and fake fur, all just for the fun of it.

Nylon sheers, metallics, polished cottons, taffetas and embroidered organdies set the stage for a royal look obviously stemming from Queen Elizabeth's visit. Dresses in deep blue or rich red get regal trim of medallions and ribbons.

Designers have discovered that mothers want party dresses which are airy and pretty but which don't require a lot of tiresome ironing to look well. They've filled the bill this season, using fabrics that don't muss, wrinkle or soil easily. They've kept the bouffant look through use of petticoats, though these are not as stiff as they used to be.

Little dresses with jackets (often of velvet) will be seen at many holiday parties. Black, ruby red or royal blue are favored colors for these jackets.

Rotary Ann's Christmas carols, and a turkey dinner were enjoyed by the Rotary Ann's at their meeting in the Pacific Club this week. The president, Mrs. Clarice Heal, announced that there will be a Christmas party for members at the home of Mrs. M. Duck next Tuesday.

WHY GROW OLD?

Are You a Bean Pole?
Read This to Fill Out

It is difficult for those of us, you slowly bend your knees all the way down. Slowly straighten the knees (heels still off the floor) until you are again high on your toes. Lower heels to the floor. Continue. This is splendid for calf development.

Many slim women wish to have more arm contour. Tennis, golf, swimming, pingpong and badminton are all good. Also do the following exercise: Stand tall. Make fists and place the back of the wrists on the hips. Straighten the elbows and fingers and shoot the arms out sideward, shoulder height. Again make fists and place the back of the wrists on the hips. Continue. Grip hard with the fists.

Today I want to give you a few exercises which improve the defects most slim girls worry about.

1. Sit straight or stand tall. Bend both elbows and raise them forward to almost shoulder height. Grasp the forearm of the left arm with the right hand and the forearm of the right arm with the left hand. Push the elbows toward one another. Resist with the hands. Relax. Continue.
2. Stand tall. Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height. Take a weight in each hand. Move the arms forward (elbows stiff) until the hands touch. Return arms to sideward, shoulder height position. Continue.
3. Stand facing a chair. Place your hands on the back of the chair. Rise high on your toes. Keep the heels off the floor as

B.C. ARCHITECTS ENTERTAINED AT COCKTAILS AND DINNER

Cocktails and a formal dinner party in the Crystal Ballroom of the Empress Hotel were given Friday for delegates to the provincial architects' convention, and their wives. Left, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Brodie, Vancouver, are greeted by Vic-

Mrs. George Peck, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Ian B. Simpson, Victoria. Among special guests were Hon. W. N. Chant and Mrs. Chant, and Mayor Percy B. Scurrah and Mrs. Scurrah. The convention ended today.

FOUR GENERATIONS REUNITED

When the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wedick and son, Michael, from London, Eng., four generations were reunited for the first time in nine years. Left to right, Mrs. Wedick's grandmother, Mrs. A. Willard, 84 years old, Mrs. A. R. Burton, Mrs. Wedick and two-year-old Michael. Mrs. Wedick is the former Bridget Burton of this city, who was married three and a half years ago in Dublin, Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. Wedick are guests of Mrs. Wedick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton, 2026 Richmond Road, for six weeks.

Dobinson-Goodman Vows In St. Paul's, Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Ivory lace over taffeta created a princess-line wedding gown for Cynthia Daphne Goodman when she became the bride of James Thomas Sawyers Dobinson in St. Paul's Anglican Church this afternoon.

The afternoon-length gown was topped by a lace bolero with three-quarter sleeves. A turquoise feather hat dotted with rhinestones and turquoise gloves complemented the bridal ensemble and pink roses and feathered white carnations formed the shower bouquet.

Rev. G. H. Greenhalgh conducted the service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald H. Goodman, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Dobinson, all of Nanaimo.

Mrs. Raymond M. Kulai was the bride's only attendant, wearing a sheath style dress of turquoise embroidered taffeta with full back panels. She wore a white sequin hat and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and feathered pink carnations.

Alan Ingham was best man and James White the usher. Pink and white floral arrangements decorated the church. During the signing of the register Mrs. Marion Morgan sang "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was E. Lemon.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where toast to the bride's happiness was proposed by John S. Rogers. The newlyweds cut a three-tiered wedding cake made and decorated by Howard Summerfelt, Bowser, B.C.

For travelling on honeymoon to Southern Island points the bride wore a full-length muskrat coat over her wedding ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobinson will make their home at 688-B, Winchester Avenue, Nanaimo.

United at All Saints

Altar of All Saints' Church, was arranged with white carnations and Talisman roses for the wedding of Mary Elizabeth Holman - Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holman of Chemainus, B.C., and Albert Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Richardson, of Victoria. Canon S. J. Wickens conducted the service.

A ballerina gown of ice blue taffeta with overskirt of dainty white lace and blue taffeta sash was worn by the bride. She wore a white feather headpiece and carried a cascade of red roses and white carnations.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Shipley May Standbrook, Duncan, was matron of honor, wearing a gown of pink taffeta with overskirt of pink net. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centred by a single Talisman rose.

William Halcrow, Brentwood, was best man and George Richardson, Victoria, brother of the groom, and Louis Holman, Chemainus, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Reception was held at View Royal Community Hall, where toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Charles Boyd. For motoring on honeymoon to California, the bride wore a royal blue dress with navy accessories.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

By JACK BEASTALL

Q. Are the names Aldrin and Dieldrin descriptive of the chemicals used in these sprays or are they trade names which indicate a certain manufacturer?—H.G., Duncan.

A. The two insecticides mentioned happen to be named after the German chemists who received the Nobel Prize for fundamental research which resulted in their development, namely Kurt Alder and Otto Diels. Dieldrin is a derivative of Aldrin.

Q. Is it true that the cyclamen can be grown in the open garden?—Mrs. N.C., Cadboro Bay.

A. There are several hardy cyclamens which grow outdoors but these should not be confused with the indoor potted cyclamens which are C. persicum. Many are native to the forests of Central and Southern Europe where pigs and boars once dug the corms for food, hence the common name "sowbread." They make a delightful addition to any shrubbery and grow well in this area.

BEASTALL ADVISES

Black Currants Outdo Oranges With Highest Vitamin C Ratio

By JACK BEASTALL

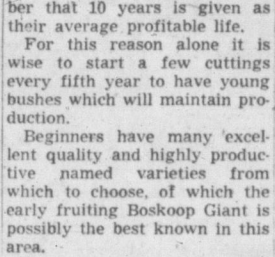

The value of Vitamin C was officially recognized in 1795 when lime juice was issued to the British Navy to prevent scurvy among sailors deprived for long periods of fresh supplies of fruit and green vegetables.

The Californian citrus growers have made us all conscious of this vitamin, but the somewhat despised black currant, which can be easily grown in any garden in Victoria, has many times the vitamin C contained in oranges.

The ratio of vitamin C in orange juice is only 60 compared with 160 in the black currant. Red currants contain but a quarter as much as the black, and it appears to be non-existent in the whites.

So, for the sake of our health, even if the jelly is not appreciated, we have a good reason for growing black currant bushes in every garden.

10-YEAR LIFE
Black currants are so easy to raise there is no excuse for retaining old and unproductive bushes. While those which have received proper care and

Jack

To raise good bushes and have good crops, the best stock obtainable has to be purchased and it must be kept up to standard.

If cuttings from established bushes are to be used, take them only from bushes which produce well filled strigs (or bunches) of large fruits, and avoid others which show the change-of-leaf-and-veining known as "reversion."

SUCKER GROWTH
Suitable cutting material comes from clean, young growths produced on the previous season's wood, or the so-called suckers which grow around the bush. All cuttings should be traced to their point of origin and cut clean.

No buds are removed from black currant cuttings. The buds which are buried (all except two at the top of the cutting) will produce the sucker growths which are so necessary to maintain the supply of young wood.

Cuttings may be taken October to January, the earlier the better, and should be growths about 12 inches long. Planting is done by making a slit in the soil with a spade and pushing the cuttings into it to a depth of six or eight inches at six-inch intervals. No winter protection is needed in the average garden.

The base of each cutting must be in firm contact with the soil, hence the practice of "pushing" them into the slit. After setting, the soil is made firm on all sides with a piece of wood used as a ram (check and firm the soil after each frost) and cut the tops at two buds above soil level.

A mulch of grass clippings and regular watering will take care of next summer's needs, and strong bushes with one to four shoots should be ready for planting out in early 1959.

A curious species of pine carries built-in fire insurance. The heat of a forest conflagration is needed to trigger the slow opening of cones and release of seeds. Thus the tree automatically replants a burned over tract.

One Hour's Work Makes Useful Gift

A simple and effective Christmas gift that can be put together in an evening is this fir plywood wastebasket.

Sides are cut from 4 1/2 inch plywood and the base is 3/4 inch. Sides are 7 1/2 inches at the base, 12 inches high and 12 inches at the top. Base is 7 inches square.

One method of procedure is to cut one side from 1/4 inch fir plywood, then use it as a pattern to cut three other sides. Boring of holes for the laces can be done in one operation if sides are stacked together. Edges should be beveled 45 degrees.

Sides are screwed to the base and one screw to each basket face should be sufficient. Leather thongs, shoe laces or ribbons can be used for lacing. Here the sides are laced like a shoe from bottom to top with an inside knot for finish at the top.

Painted or stained, the fir plywood basket will make a useful present anyone could make for friends this Christmas.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—How is window glass graded as to quality?—C. Q.

A—AA; A; B; Glass graded as "AA" is the finest glass that glassmakers can produce. "A" quality glass is the type used in many homes, and is free of any distortions that would normally interfere with vision. "B" quality glass contains minor small imperfections that might be noticeable to the casual viewer.

WEEK'S WORK

By JACK BEASTALL

Plant apples, pears, peaches, cherries, plums, currants, figs, nuts, roses, deciduous (leaf-losing) shrubs and trees, coniferous shrubs, and trees and evergreen shrubs and trees.

Cut down the last of the outdoor chrysanthemums to soil level. Dig the roots and place in a cold frame or cold (unheated) greenhouse. Protect only from excessive rain and hard frost.

Prepare more soil to keep under cover for use in repotting and seeding early in year.

Plants of the calla-lily need more light and warmth now. Do not feed until flower buds show.

Fuchsias and hydrangeas in pots being stored for winter must not be allowed to get dust dry.

Check fruit and vegetables in storage.

Lift and store horseradish. It spreads badly if left undisturbed. Replant new bed if soil can be worked.

How much will you earn in the next 20 years?

Let's say that you earn $5,000 a year. In twenty years you will have earned $100,000 — without taking into account any future increases.

Whatever the exact figure, you will have earned a sizeable fortune.

Have you ever stopped to figure out just how much you can save for your family or your retirement years?

By its very nature, life insurance can help you to preserve a part of that fortune. For, with the payment of one premium, life insurance automatically creates an immediate estate to guarantee income to your family in the event of your death. At the same time, life insurance can be building a fund to provide you with a lifetime income for your retirement years if you survive.

Your Sun Life agent will be glad to discuss this important point with you and explain in greater detail how part of your own personal 'fortune' can be preserved through life insurance.

Battle Lines Drawn Up For District Elections

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

By MIKE ROSE and IRVING STRICKLAND

What do you think of the

Mrs. Lillian Cousen, 1598 Rockland Avenue: "If they are going to be valuable to science I would say that the Sputniks are a good thing, but what worries me is where they are going to land and what they will do to the area where they do. I object to using animals for these experiments to a certain extent, but if we want to progress I guess we'll have to put up with it."

Mrs. Cousen Bill Dewar

Bill Dewar, 1955 Oak Bay Avenue: "I definitely think that is the first step in the making our trip to the moon and also in the interests of science I don't really think it matters who gets them up first, the U.S. or the Russians. Perhaps one day I'll be able to go up and get myself a little homestead on Mars."

H. A. Jones, 423 St. Anne Avenue: "I think that they are something beneficial for science and if they can be developed to drop off at a certain point they will do some good. Just as the situation is at the moment I don't think that they will help us out in our daily lives but it's one step forward in getting to the moon."

H. A. Jones Mrs. Zozula

Mrs. Helen Zozula, 3614 Richmond Road: "I doubt very much if it's going to be beneficial to us in the long run. It certainly may help us get to the moon, but who wants to go? My 10-year-old son is very interested in that sort of thing and he says that he wants to go to the moon on his honeymoon."

W. H. Davies, 1034 Clare: "I think that they are beneficial to the cause of science and further that they are inevitable in this age of progress. I certainly agree that the Sputnik program will help us get to the moon but apart from the scientific aspect I have no desire whatever to go there."

W. H. Davies Mrs. Creagh

Mrs. D. J. Creagh, 1442 Monterey: "I am certain that the Sputniks won't be beneficial and goodness only knows where all this will end. If anything really got going I'd like to think of what would happen to civilization. I certainly think that they will get to the moon but I know that I won't be on the first trip."

Fair Dealing Promised Eversfield

VANCOUVER (CP) — City prosecutor Stewart McMorran said Friday that Charles W. Eversfield, witness in the Somers conspiracy case, will be "fairly dealt with" in his complaints that he is losing $362 a week because he came here to testify.

Eversfield said the hiring of another accountant to look after his Los Angeles business, plus the loss of business, costs him $362 a week.

He had been paid $42 a day and hotel charges when he was working with the Sloan royal commission, but when the commission was dissolved and former forests minister Robert Somers brought before the courts on bribery conspiracy charges.

Mr. McMorran said Eversfield was "quite properly" being paid before and "there is no reason why he should not be properly treated" now that the commission is dissolved.

By PETE LOUDON
Greater Victoria municipal contests build to a climax Thursday with 35 candidates seeking election to 22 posts.

For the first time in recent history, Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt electors will ballot on the same day.

Despite this concentration of interests, the elections generally have taken on the tamer aspects in recent years.

Nine candidates have already been placed in office by acclamation. This includes the whole slate of council and school board in Central Saanich, Victoria's mayor and Oak Bay's reeve.

Again, despite widespread interest in the common problem of amalgamation, only in Victoria will voters be able to express themselves on the question, and there only to the extent of asking a royal commission to give the proposal a detailed study.

Victoria Outnumbered on Board

Surprisingly, only Victoria could logically be expected to object to the question. For while ownership of the library is not involved (it will remain the property of Victoria), the new arrangement will mean Victoria library board representatives will in future be outnumbered, five to three.

Victoria elected officials are, however, agreeable to the proposed changes. Mayor Percy Scourrah has called for the voters to pass the new agreement with a hearty majority.

If the election becomes heated next week, the warmth will likely emanate from Saanich due to the annual battle between the "old guard" championed this year by reeve-candidate Coun. Eugene Diespecker, and reformist Reeve Arthur Ash.

Saanich also has the heaviest lineup of candidates for council.

Smith Likely Focus of Controversy

Victoria's election picture sees four incumbents winding up a good year of civic accomplishment. But two candidates may be expected to be barraged when they step on the speakers' platform.

Ald. J. Donald Smith, who disproves the old adage "you can't fight city hall" is the olive in the salad. (You either like them or you don't.) He has made strong friends and strong enemies with fearless dissertations on business tax, cats, one-way streets and new construction of fire and city halls.

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson, may be target of "snipers" from ratepayer groups who opposed her management of the question of sinks in housekeeping rooms.

Although the question was settled to everyone's satisfaction, the ratepayers put up a second woman candidate, Mrs. Sally Rogers, and it is generally accepted only one woman will be elected.

Saanich candidates speak at 8 p.m. Monday at Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall and Tuesday at the CCF Hall on Richmond.

Esquimalt candidates will hold a joint public meeting Tuesday at Esquimalt High School. Victoria's candidates are slated to appear on the same stage at Crystal Garden Ballroom Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Polling hours differ between the municipalities and the city. In Victoria voters may cast ballots between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. In Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt the polling hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Here is the full list of candidates, excepting those elected by acclamation. An (x) is before the names of those now holding office.

VICTORIA:

ISLAND DIGEST Sawdust Blower Severs Boy's Foot

LAKE COWICHAN—A five-year-old boy was rushed to King's Daughters' Hospital in Duncan Friday after having had his right foot cut off by a sawdust blower fan, today was reported to be recovering.

Ross Forrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Forrest, and victim of the accident, was watching the unloading of a sawdust truck at his home when the accident occurred.

Other children nearby said he had climbed up on the truck to watch the sawdust going into the blower, but had lost his balance and toppled into the truck box.

One of the boys ran for Mrs. Forrest, who came from the house to find the driver of the truck digging furiously to find the boy.

It was found his foot had been cut off at the ankle. His condition was reported as satisfactory following an operation at the Duncan hospital.

Youth Faces Grave Charge In Shooting

COURTENAY—Orville Clemson Harris, 18, was charged in police court here Friday with criminal negligence in connection with the death of Frank Plowright, 68, civic employee.

Mr. Plowright was on duty at the city dump as a watchman Oct. 13, and was in a small shed when three youths came to the dump with a gun for target practice.

After firing a few shots at tin cans and other targets, they fired on the shed, not knowing it was occupied. Later they investigated and found Mr. Plowright on the floor with a bullet wound in his shoulder and back.

He was taken to Vancouver for medical treatment, and died in hospital there Oct. 28.

DEEP-SEA SHIPS IN PORT

Victoria (Ogden Point)—Inch Stewart, Baron Glenconner, Hazelmere.

Chemainus—Gannet, Crofton—Winkleigh, Nanaimo—Union Banker, Tahsis—Ranger, Alberni—Aggesborg, Breeze.

Ottawa Interested In Trade Proposal

Premier Bennett said today the federal government has expressed interest in his proposal that the Commonwealth Trade Conference be held in Victoria next fall.

Suggestion was made in the B.C. brief presented to the federal-provincial conference in Ottawa last week.

"Our invitation was well received," the premier said.

Mr. Bennett has proposed that the conference be held in the legislative assembly.

EASTERN ORIGIN

Plant scientists believe the forerunner of the modern apple first appeared in southwest Asia.

DUNCAN (CP)—A Duncan alderman says some steps on the civic level may be needed to stop the flow of obscene literature on to Duncan newsstands.

"We may have to take action if we can't get the local newsstands to clean the situation up," Ald. Steve Saunders said at a council meeting.

Later Ald. Saunders said he will seek the co-operation of parent-teacher groups in keeping objectionable literature away from children.

Weekend Flip To Europe Seen by 1962

British Columbians will be taking weekend trips to Europe by 1962, in the opinion of Russ Jeffs, assistant secretary of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

"By that time fares will have dropped to the point where regular weekend trips will be practicable and the travelling time between Vancouver and London will probably be about five hours."

Mr. Jeffs, a former RAF pilot, says leading U.S. aircraft experts believe there will be two-hour flights by jet aircraft from Seattle to London by 1967.

It has already been announced that the Boeing 707 and the Douglas DC 8 will be making nine-hour flights between Seattle and London in 1959.

"The rapid advance of jet air travel will inevitably bring down fares to the point where average men and women in Vancouver and Victoria will be able to weekend in Europe."

RUSS SAY IT COULD BE

If Russ Rocket in B.C. We Can't Find It Yet

Russia today made a formal claim that the remnants of the Sputnik I first stage rocket fell over Alaska or northern British Columbia, but if it did no one in authority here or in the United States knows about it.

Nor is there any confirmation that any fragments of it have been located.

A spokesman for the RCN Pacific Command said here today no reports of finding rocket remnants had been received.

"If it had been located, we would have been notified," he said.

POSSIBLE, SAYS EXPERT

Edward Argyle, electronic expert on the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, said it was possible that the rocket could have fallen in northern B.C. "But there is no physical evidence of it," he said.

A London report from Reuters today states the Russian news agency Tass says the carrier rocket fell "on the territory of Alaska and on the western coast of North America."

The agency, in a statement following the claim Friday by Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev that the rocket fell on United States territory Dec. 1, said:

"According to available data the remnants of the third stage carrier rocket fell on the territory of Alaska and on the western coast of North America."

Tass' statement that rocket remnants came down on the west coast could mean the Alaska Panhandle, British Columbia or both.

LASTED 58 DAYS

"In all the carrier rocket of Sputnik No. 1, which initially orbited the earth in 96.2 minutes and had an apogee of 900 kilometres (559 miles), lasted as an artificial satellite of the earth for about 58 days, having in that time travelled a distance in the order of 39,000,000 kilometres (24,233,000 miles)."

Khrushchev accused the Americans of refusing to return the rocket.

"They don't want to give it back to us," he said. "We relied on them, trusting in their decency, but they didn't live up to it."

The U.S. Army at Fairbanks, Alaska, reported a fragment of the rocket was believed to have fallen Sunday 100 miles south of Fairbanks. But nothing was reported found. Washington officials said they have no evidence the fragment hit the United States.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., reported its observations indicated the rocket plunged to its death Saturday night, possibly in the South Pacific.

T-BRICKS FOR KOREA

Navy Man Describes Appalling Condition

By DINAH KERR

An RCN commander who last saw Korea in the grip of a fierce and bloody war called on Victorians today to support the "T-Bricks for Korea" Fund.

"If what I saw was any yardstick," he said, "conditions there are even more frightful now."

He visited Korea in 1952 and was shocked by the plight of thousands of children left homeless by the ravages of war.

"A tremendous number roamed the streets in bands, scavenging and stealing so that they could live another day," he said. "Even then conditions were unbelievably grim."

Friday Victorians contributed $466 to The Times campaign to build a TB outpatients' pavilion for children in Seoul.

We need $12,000 by Christmas and we now have little over $4,400. Will you send a donation to The Victoria Daily Times, Douglas Street, or The Times' downtown office, Broad Street, today? (See list of donors, page 29.)

'Baby Budget' Spreads Few Tax Cuts Thinly

FISCAL HIGHLIGHTS

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of Finance Minister Donald Fleming's fiscal statement to the Commons Friday night:

Revenues for 1957-58 fiscal year estimated at $5,144,000,000 with tax cuts of $26,000,000 from the $5,170,000,000 forecast by the Liberal government.

Expenditures for 1957-58 fiscal year now forecast at $5,064,000,000 compared with Liberal estimate of $5,018,000,000 in last spring's budget.

Surplus for 1957-58 fiscal year now forecast at $80,000,000 compared with spring budget forecast of $152,000,000.

No increases in taxes.

Room, board and transportation allowances to workers on away-from-home construction sites to be tax-free.

Personal income tax exemption for dependents increased $100, effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Rate of tax on first $1,000 of taxable income reduced to 11 per cent from 13 per cent; rate on second $1,000 reduced to 14 from 15 per cent; both effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Corporation income tax of 20 per cent to apply on first $25,000 income instead of first $20,000, effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Corporation income tax rate of 47 per cent on all profits in excess of $25,000 unchanged.

Special excise tax on automobiles reduced to 7½ per cent from 10 per cent, effective Dec. 7, 1957.

Tax reductions in fiscal year ending March 31, 1958, amount to $26,000,000; in a full year to $178,000,000.

Repeal of Succession Duty Act to be started at this session of Parliament, completed later.

New estate taxation act will exempt all estates up to $50,000; widows' estates to get $60,000 exemption plus $10,000 for each child under 21.

Reduced excise tax on cars to cost treasury $20,000,000 in full year; $8,000,000 in current fiscal year.

LONDON (Reuters) — Little non-league Hereford United moved into the third round of the English soccer Association Cup play today with a crushing 6-1 win over Third Division Queens Park Rangers.

Hereford's win before 10,000 fans—a third of the town's population—was the highlight of 31 games between Third Division and non-league clubs. The goal is the cup final at Wembley in May.

The only other non-league club still in the competition is Wigan Athletic, of the Lancashire combination, which held Third Division Mansfield Town to a 1-1 tie today. They will replay Wednesday.

East Stars Win Football In Sea of Mud

MONTREAL (BUP) — The east all-stars, paced by Hamilton fullbacks Gerry McDougall and Cookie Gilchrist, slithered and rolled to a 20-2 victory over the west in a steady downpour to give the east its first victory over the west in the annual Shrine game.

Some 6,000 rain-soaked fans watched the favored east score touchdowns in each of the first three quarters while holding the westerners to two single points.

The west first had tied the east 6-6 and then had scored a 35-0 rout in the previous all-star games and all three have been played in the rain.

OPENING SCORE

The East, 5½-point favorites, came through in strong style. McDougall raced 24 yards for the first touchdown of the game, and then caught a pass from quarterback Sam Etcheverry of Montreal to score his second on a play that covered 33 yards.

Teammate Gilchrist, Youngstown, Ohio, fullback who never went to college, broke 15 yards through the middle for the East's second touchdown. Bill Bewley of Montreal converted the East's last touchdown. Hamilton's Cam Fraser, Canada's top punter, booted a long single for the East's other point.

Vic Chapman of B.C. was credited with two singles conceded by the East.

SUMMARY
FIRST QUARTER
1. East, touch-down (McDougall).
2. East, single (Fraser).
SECOND QUARTER
1. East, touch-down (Gilchrist).
THIRD QUARTER
1. East, touch-down (McDougall).
2. East, convert (Bewley).
FOURTH QUARTER
1. West, single (Chapman).
2. West, single (Chapman).

PRAYER FOR TODAY

God, there are times when I must talk to someone. Thine is the only name I know that will understand, and Thine the only ear that will patiently wait to hear. Thou hast promised that if I call, Thou wilt answer. Lord, my whole emptiness is my call for Thy fullness. I bless Thee, O Christ, that sick people were Thy concern and that they parted from Thee healed in body and spirit. So may Thy power and peace be medicine to me. Amen.

Fleming Slices Income, Car Levies

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's income tax payers will benefit next year, and buyers of new cars will gain immediately, from a thinly-spread cut of $178,000,000 a year in federal taxes.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming presented this tax-change program in the Commons Friday night as the realization of a Progressive Conservative election promise of tax reductions.

Opposition spokesmen immediately charged that it fell far short of the government's election pledges and bitterly attacked the 52-year-old minister for not presenting a full-fledged budget. (See page 3.)

Mr. Fleming's statement which he didn't claim to be a formal budget speech, contained these main proposals:

1. Personal income tax reductions starting Jan. 1 and ranging up to $30 for some taxpayers, and more for those with children and other dependents. This will cost the treasury $146,000,000 a year.

Reduced Rates on Income

More than half the drop in personal income tax comes from reducing tax rates on the first $2,000 of taxable income—the amount on which the levy is made after all exemptions and deductions are counted. All 4,500,000 taxpayers will benefit to some extent.

That change will mean a 15-per-cent tax saving for persons with taxable incomes of less than $1,000 and an 11-per-cent saving for those in the $1,000-$2,000 bracket. A flat $30-a-year cut goes to all with taxable incomes over $2,000.

The other change in personal income taxes will boost the basic exemption for children and other dependents by $100. It will rise to $250 from $150 for "family allowance" children to age 16, and to $500 from $400 for other dependent children and other dependents.

The minister said his reductions will cost the treasury $26,000,000 in the current fiscal year ending March 31, and leave him with an $80,000,000 surplus.

SMALLER SURPLUS

This compares with the forecast of a $152,000,000 surplus made by former Liberal finance minister Walter Harris in his Continued on Page 29

Car Dealers Laud Excise Tax Ease

By JOHN MIKA

Victoria car dealers today lauded the federal government for an unprecedented protection announced in the new tax changes Friday.

Dealers were pleased with the 25 per cent reduction in excise taxes on new cars, but what brought them cheering to their feet was the promise that the cut would apply on new cars already in their lots.

Other tax changes, along with a move that will moderately reduce 1958 income tax, were welcomed by business and labor leaders as well as parents.

R. W. Riddle, manager of Thomas Plimley Ltd. and president of the Victoria Auto Dealers Association, said the promise that the 2½-per-cent car excise tax reduction would apply on cars in stock was "wonderful news."

FIRST TIME

"That's the first time in history the dealers ever have been given this protection by Ottawa."

"It is a substantial benefit to dealers because many have high inventories at this time of year when the new models come out," he said.

Mr. Riddle said any tax cut was welcome but "we won't be sure of exactly how much it means until we get the new price lists from manufacturers."

David Lawson, manager of Empress Motors Ltd., said the cut should have some effect on the price of late-model used cars because of lower prices on new ones.

"I think the cut is too small but at least it's something," he said. "But I'm very happy that we will get rebates on taxes already paid on new cars. We've never had that before and we've taken a costly beating when previous changes were made."

AT FACTORY LEVEL

Manager of another auto firm, who preferred to remain unidentified, said he did not think the cut would make very much difference because it will be made at the factory price level.

"I think it will mean about a $35 reduction in the retail price of cars on the average, not the $75 being mentioned by the press reports," he said.

Hugh R. Stephen, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said the government's move to ease the corporation tax at the lower end of the scale was "welcome relief to smaller businesses."

HEADLINERS' FIELD DAY

London's morning newspapers today made sport of U.S. failure to launch a satellite with a Vanguard rocket. Montage shows range of descriptions from "Kapusnik" to "Ike's Phutnik." (AP Wirephoto.)

Ike Demands Full Report

U.S. Moon-Launching Flop Jeered Loudest By British

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sifted the ashes of its fallen earth satellite rocket today, seeking a way to recoup its heavy loss in the scientific cold war.

President Eisenhower ordered the defense department to give him a full account of what happened and why. The president was described as being "disappointed."

So was the man in charge of Project Vanguard, Dr. John Hagen of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington who today studied films of the ill-fated satellite launching Friday at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

At the United Nations, several diplomats expressed regret at the United States satellite failure. One was Russian delegate Arkady A. Sobolev.

Some leading United States legislators said the failure indicates it may take a "long, hard pull" to catch up with Russia in missile development.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Texas) said his Senate preparedness subcommittee will ask for a full report on the satellite launching explosion.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader said the Vanguard incident was "one of the best publicized—and most humiliating failures in our history."

Defense department officials indicated no great alarm at the satellite launching failure.

Some sections of the British press jeered loudest in the world-wide reaction to Friday's failure. But there was sober comment too.

Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev, questioned at a cocktail party in Finland's Moscow embassy, sidestepped an invitation to crow. He said he was sure a United States satellite lite "will be launched sooner or later". Moscow radio likewise played it straight.

EUROPE WAY BEHIND
NATO Secretary-General Paul-Henri Spaak agreed with Khrushchev's estimate. Spaak frowned on Europeans laughing at the United States failure, saying Europe "must be very far in decline" not even to think about launching a satellite of its own.

'BEAM KNOCKED HIM OFF'

Man's Death Plunge From Span Watched by Horrified Brother

VANCOUVER (CP) — A young steelworker described today how he turned his eyes away in horror while his brother fell 95 feet to his death from the Second Narrows Bridge here.

Albert Bearchell, 28, of New Westminster, B.C., died several hours after slipping off a high beam on the bridge while working with his brother Friday.

Mr. Bearchell, stepfather of four children, formerly lived in Edmonton.

"We were carrying some scaffolding out to the first point of the bridge," said Robert Bearchell, 24, brother of the dead man.

"I was in front and he was behind. I set my end down and a moment later he holered that his end was cutting into his shoulder."

"He tried to put it down, but it turned around on him and knocked him off balance."

Witnesses said Albert Bear-

chell grabbed at the beam as he went over the edge, fell 30 feet to a second beam, then rolled off that and landed 75 feet to the ground.

"I turned my eyes away when I saw him roll off the second time," his brother said.

The injured man died several hours later in North Vancouver General Hospital. Both brothers came to Vancouver from Edmonton last August.

Th' missile blew, but not up.

Have a hunch I better save next year's tax reduction 't' pay an increase th' followin' year.

Don't see why we can't see that Sputnik if it landed in B.C. or Alaska. Only about 950,000 square miles involved.

Labor War Not Our Aim, Say Unions

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Both the AFL-CIO and the exiled International Brotherhood of Teamsters disclaimed any intent today of starting a labor war in the wake of the truck union's expulsion on corruption charges.

The action came after AFL-CIO President George Meany charged the teamsters never have lifted a finger to clean up

HOUSE GIVES PEARSON NOBEL PRIZE SENDOFF

OTTAWA, (CP) — The Commons today gave Lester B. Pearson a warm sendoff for his journey to Oslo, Norway, to receive the Nobel peace prize.

Stanley Knowles, deputy CCF leader, suggested that the former Liberal external affairs minister be offered the good wishes of the House through Speaker Roland Michener.

There was applause. Speaker Michener said he was sure this applause clearly showed members' feelings toward their distinguished colleague.

NATO Support Asked by Dutch

PARIS (CP) — The Netherlands asked the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's council today to support a Dutch complaint to the United Nations about developments in Indonesia, where Dutch citizens are being expelled.

Dr. Edco van Kleffens, Dutch permanent delegate to the council, said after an emergency meeting that the council took the idea under consideration and referred the Indonesian situation to member governments.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian employees took over the three largest Dutch banks in downtown Jakarta today despite a government ban on unauthorized seizures of Dutch enterprises.

A union leader said the Dutch public library and Dutch diplomatic mission libraries in Jakarta also were taken over this morning.

The Indonesian government has ordered most of the 46,000 Dutch residents to get out immediately, leaving behind most of their property. The order was issued Friday as part of a campaign to wrest West New Guinea from The Netherlands.

A source close to the government said diplomatic relations with The Netherlands will be broken off very soon.

Woman Accused Of Jewel Theft

$3,000 Necklace Stolen

Elizabeth Speed, 2621 Doncaster, was charged in city police court today with theft of a diamond and emerald bracelet valued at $3,000.

The bracelet was stolen Sept. 30 from Marianne Koerner, Vancouver, wife of Walter C. Koerner, a director of Alaska Pine and Cellulose Ltd. and one of B.C.'s wealthiest men.

The theft occurred at a local hotel.

Mrs. Speed is represented by Robert J. Harvey.

Mr. Harvey asked a week's delay for election of trial but was refused by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The accused will appear again Monday.

Robert Clifford McMullen and Thomas Peter Baxter, no fixed address, also appeared in court charged with theft of 15 metal coils from Capital Iron and Metals Ltd., 1832 Store Street.

The theft was under $50 value. Both men, represented by Alan Bigelow, were remanded to Tuesday for plea.

Man Wounded By Own Rifle Faces Charge

Edward Dick, 21, of the Songhees Reserve, who shot himself in the thigh as he walked along Admirals Road Thursday night, will be charged with possession of a sawed-off rifle, Colwood RCMP said today.

The offence carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment.

Dick was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where the small calibre bullet was removed from his leg. The wound was not serious.

Police said Dick told them he had been having trouble with prowlers around his home and carried the weapon for protection.

The gun was stuck through his belt and down one trouser leg when it went off, police said.

MONDAY MEETINGS

Gyros: 12 noon, Empress Hotel. The role of the Defence Research Board and Pacific Naval Laboratory in Canadian defence will be described by Dr. W. L. Ford.

British Israel World Federation: 3 p.m., YWCA recreation room. Talk, "A Tour of Britain," illustrated with slides will be given by E. W. Berry.

STORM PASSES WEATHERSHIP ON WAY HERE; RAIN TONIGHT

A storm that passed the weathership at noon will give rain tonight, and winds up to 25 miles per hour, weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

It will go through Victoria before daybreak Sunday, and will leave intermittent showers and partial clearing in its wake, he said.

Winds Sunday will be southwesterly at 15 miles, and temperatures will range between 38 and 45 degrees.

Lessons Learned At School Help Boys Escape Fire

Lessons learned in school saved a 12-year-old boy and his five-year-old brother from a fire which caused an estimated $2,000 damage at their home Friday night.

Michael McGimpsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Des McGimpsey, 5026 Lochside, was looking after his brother, Brian, while their parents were out for the evening.

When smoke from an electrical fire filled the house at 11 p.m., Michael sent the younger boy outside and tried to call firemen.

NEXT DOOR

Unable to contact the telephone operator, the older boy rushed with his brother next door to the home of the Misses Violet Hearn and Rhoda Thomas, 5020 Lochside, who called Saanich fire department.

It was Michael's first experience with a fire but the tow-headed lad was master of the situation.

"I've been looking after Brian ever since he was born, I guess," the boy said matter-of-factly today.

NOT ASLEEP

"It was just before 11 and I was sitting up with Brian in the bedroom. He was in bed but not asleep."

"I smelled smoke and opened the door to the living room. I found the chesterfield was burning, and the table leg, too."

"I got my brother out of the house first. He just had a sweater on and I just had an undershirt so I put on a pair of trousers."

The fire truck was there and pumping water by 11:05, Michael said.

Fire department said a table lamp had short-circuited, then probably fell over onto the chesterfield.

REAL MESS

"It was a pretty horrible mess to come home to," Mrs. McGimpsey said.

"We're thankful the boys got out, though. That's the main thing."

The McGimpseys arrived home from a movie at about 11:20 and found firemen mopping up.

A grade six pupil at Malvern House School, Michael was unfazed by the experience, although both boys admitted they were a little excited at the time.

"I got a good night's sleep," Michael grinned.

The family spent the night with Mrs. McGimpsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cummings, 3367 Salsbury Way.

Mayor Accepts Honorary Post

Honorary presidency of Greater Victoria and District Safety Council, now being organized, was accepted today by Mayor Percy Scourrah.

The mayor said he is gravely concerned over traffic fatalities during the week and said there is a need for leading citizens and businesses to improve safety conditions in the area.

The chapter will concern itself with all aspects of safety, but pedestrian and traffic safety in particular. The three deaths in traffic in 21 hours this week indicates the urgency of a local safety program, president Roy H. Lund said.

Pensioners' Rent Boost Deplored

Health Minister Eric Martin said Friday it is "deplorable" that some landlords have raised the rent or old-age pensioner tenants by their $9 monthly increase.

He urged the landlords to allow the pensioners to keep the increase "as it was intended to benefit them and help them meet the higher costs of food and other necessities of life."

There have been no reports of rent increases by pensioners in Victoria, but a number of complaints have been made in Vancouver.

Mr. Martin also confirmed that the provincial government will sign an agreement with Ottawa to share the cost of the increase for 10,000 pensioners on old-age assistance, and disabled and blind persons' allowances.

The action was approved by the cabinet Friday.

The increase will be retroactive to Nov. 1, he said.

THE CITY OF VICTORIA NEEDS A SOUND, PROGRESSIVE, EXPERIENCED COUNCIL

Alderman Millard H. Mooney

As Chairman of the City Council's Public Works Committee I have had charge of the city's biggest spending department.

For years I have been devoting myself to advancing the City's best interests in all divisions of civic business.

Naturally, Public Works matters have had my very special and energetic attention, and I am particularly anxious to continue my work in this most interesting field.

Many jobs have been completed by the Public Works Committee, the latest of which was the Point Ellice Bridge, whilst others are still in hand or projected.

If you consider that I have fulfilled my duties as a Councillor over the past five years then I NEED YOUR VOTE FOR RE-ELECTION.

B.C. ARCHITECTS ENTERTAINED AT COCKTAILS AND DINNER

Mrs. George Peck, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Ian B. Simpson, Victoria. Among special guests were Hon. W. N. Chant and Mrs. Chant, and Mayor Percy B. Scurrah and Mrs. Scurrah. The convention ended today.

FOUR GENERATIONS REUNITED

When the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wedick and son, Michael, from London, Eng., four generations were reunited for the first time in nine years. Left to right, Mrs. Wedick's grandmother, Mrs. A. Willard, 84 years old, Mrs. A. R. Burton, Mrs. Wedick and two-year-old Michael. Mrs. Wedick is the former Bridget Burton of this city, who was married three and a half years ago in Dublin, Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. Wedick are guests of Mrs. Wedick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton, 206 Richmond Road, for six weeks.

Dobinson-Goodman Vows In St. Paul's, Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Ivory lace over taffeta created a princess-line wedding gown for Cynthia Daphne Goodman when she became the bride of James Thomas Sawyers Dobinson in St. Paul's Anglican Church this afternoon.

The afternoon-length gown was topped by a lace bolero with three-quarter sleeves. A turquoise feather hat dotted with rhinestones and turquoise gloves complemented the bridal ensemble and pink roses and feathered white carnations formed the shower bouquet.

Rev. G. H. Greenhalgh conducted the service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald H. Goodman, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Dobinson, all of Nanaimo.

Mrs. Raymond M. Kulai was the bride's only attendant, wearing a sheath style dress of turquoise embroidered taffeta with full back panels. She wore a white sequin hat and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and feathered pink carnations.

Alan Ingham was best man and James White the usher. Pink and white floral arrangements decorated the church. During the signing of the register Mrs. Marion Morgan sang "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was E. Lemon.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where toast to the bride's happiness was proposed by John S. Rogers. The newlyweds cut a three-tiered wedding cake made and decorated by Howard Summerfelt, Bowser, B.C.

For travelling on honeymoon to Southern Island points the bride wore a full-length mus-

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

MONDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) — Be sure to take care of the most practical matters today and start week wisely, particularly where finances are concerned, ready for any possible emergencies. Consult authorities, P.M. avoid argument with friends.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) — Much study of daily paper, other printed matter in early part of the day will bring forth many practical ideas. And, data-loaded, you can discuss with associate and put them in early motion, get his or her O.K.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — The labor you put into any real estate now will be worth a great deal later, and don't hesitate to expend a small amount of money on it. Fine for cleaning, etc. A great day for sales or purchases.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) — Aspects are wonderful

for a happy day, knowing how best to make a better appearance, improve health. Work at it right away, then step out for a lovely day at your most loved activities. Have a fine time!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — It is possible today

to get down to practical matters and investigation to ferret out what has displeased of late and know how to improve situation. Tonight is fine for quiet pleasure at home, inviting refined guests.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — You are fortunate

in having a pal, who is both dynamic, clever and sure of himself or herself, give you valuable pointers on how best to succeed yourself. Be sure to hang on to every word, sift and use information.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Be certain to put all civic or public-spirited affairs in ideal condition today. A most influential personality has an eye on you, is ready to expend support you require. Don't be afraid to ask for it politely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Be sure to pick up the valuable seeds of information in your paper or other sources that can quickly be planted properly for assured success in early future. Get on the road to prosperity, health and happiness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — It is important that you think practically and constructively today. Ferret out what has so far eluded you, for it is within easy grasp. Attend to your credit also, and see that your most pressing bills are paid.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Long talks with associates and higher ups today will result in greater understanding and getting all the aid you require to bring your goals closer to you. Good day for solving any personal problems, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Anything you may do today can be done in finest and most efficient fashion, but you will be able to get ahead faster if you confide in officials what your aims are. Be clever. Tonight, take it easy, rest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Inspirational qualities

so alive today that it is possible to accomplish just about anything you set your heart on. Good day to meet new people, the firm friends of tomorrow. Be a good host to them, also tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN MONDAY

The cautious child born Monday is the kind who will analyze lengthily and carefully any situation or person that comes his or her way; and then takes time before reaching a definite decision or getting into activity. This is fine on important matters, but teach that relatively unimportant ones should be decided upon immediately, or lose opportunities. A good horoscope for import, export professions, trades.

'BABY BUDGET'

Few Tax Cuts Spread Thinly

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's income tax payers will benefit next year, and buyers of new cars will gain immediately, from a thinly-spread cut of $178,000,000 a year in federal taxes.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming presented this tax-change program in the Commons Friday night as the realization of a Progressive Conservative election promise of tax reductions.

Opposition spokesmen immediately charged that it fell far short of the government's election pledges and bitterly attacked the 52-year-old minister for not presenting a full-fledged budget. (See page 3.)

Mr. Fleming's statement which he didn't claim to be a formal budget speech, contained these main proposals:

1. Personal income tax reductions starting Jan. 1 and ranging up to $30 for some taxpayers, and more for those with children and other dependents. This will cost the treasury $146,000,000 a year.
2. A $12,000,000-a-year paring down of corporation tax revenues by reductions ranging to a maximum $1,350 for companies earning over $20,000.
3. An immediate cut to 7½ per cent in the 10-per-cent excise tax on new automobiles. The change will total $20,000,000 a year.

There is no change in 1957 income taxes, for which taxpayers will file returns next spring. No change is planned in the special two-per-cent taxes on personal and corporation income and commodity sales, paid into a fund to finance the universal old age pensions to all over 70. Mr. Fleming indicated the recent $9 pension increase, to $55 monthly, will produce a $50,000,000 deficit in the fund on top of a $45,000,000 deficit forecast last spring.

Reduced Rates on Income

More than half the drop in personal income tax comes from reducing tax rates on the first $2,000 of taxable income—the amount on which the levy is made after all exemptions and deductions are counted. All 4,500,000 taxpayers will benefit to some extent.

That change will mean a 15-per-cent tax saving for persons with taxable incomes of less than $1,000 and an 11-per-cent saving for those in the $1,000-$2,000 bracket. A flat $30-a-year cut goes to all with taxable incomes over $2,000.

The other change in personal income taxes will boost the basic exemption for children and other dependents by $100. It will rise to $250 from $150 for "family allowance" children to age 16, and to $500 from $400 for other dependent children and other dependents.

The minister said his reductions will cost the treasury $26,000,000 in the current fiscal year ending March 31, and leave him with an $80,000,000 surplus.

SMALLER SURPLUS

This compares with the forecast of a $152,000,000 surplus made by former Liberal finance minister Walter Harris in his

Car Dealers Laud Excise Tax Ease

By JOHN MIKA

Victoria car dealers today lauded the federal government for an unprecedented protection announced in the new tax changes Friday.

Dealers were pleased with the 25 per cent reduction in excise taxes on new cars, but what brought them cheering to their feet was the promise that the cut would apply on new cars already in their lots.

Other tax changes, along with a move that will moderately reduce 1958 income tax, were welcomed by business and labor leaders as well as parents.

R. W. Riddle, manager of Thomas Plimley Ltd. and president of the Victoria Auto Dealers Association, said the promise that the 2½ per cent car excise tax reduction would apply on cars in stock was "wonderful news."

FIRST TIME

"That's the first time in history the dealers ever have been given this protection by Ottawa."

"It is a substantial benefit to dealers because many have high inventories at this time of year when the new models come out," he said.

Mr. Riddle said any tax cut was welcome but "we won't be sure of exactly how much it means until we get the new price lists from manufacturers."

Car Dealers Laud Excise Tax Ease

David Lawson, manager of Empress Motors Ltd., said the cut should have some effect on the price of late-model used cars because of lower prices on new ones.

"I think the cut is too small but at least it's something," he said. "But I'm very happy that we will get rebates on taxes already paid on new cars. We've never had that before and we've taken a costly beating when previous changes were made."

AT FACTORY LEVEL

Manager of another auto firm, who preferred to remain unidentified, said he did not think the cut would make very much difference because it will be made at the factory price level.

"I think it will mean about a $35 reduction in the retail price of cars on the average, not the $75 being mentioned by the press reports," he said.

Hugh R. Stephen, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said the government's move to ease the corporation tax at the lower end of the scale was "welcome relief to smaller businesses."

The 20 per cent corporation

East Grid Stars In Smashing Win

MONTREAL (BUP)—The east all-stars, paced by Hamilton fullbacks Gerry McDougall and Cookie Gilchrist, slithered and rolled to a 20-2 victory over the west in a steady downpour to give the east its first victory over the west in the annual Shrine game.

Some 6,000 rain-soaked fans watched the favored east score touchdowns in each of the first three-quarters while holding the westerners to two single points.

The west first had tied the east 6-6 and then had scored a 35-0 rout in the previous all-star games and all three have been played in the rain.

OPENING SCORE

The East, 5½-point favorites, came through in strong style. McDougall raced 24 yards for the first touchdown of the game, and then caught a pass from quarterback Sam Etcheverry of Montreal to score his second on a play that covered 33 yards.

Teammate Gilchrist, Youngstown, Ohio, fullback who never went to college, broke 15 yards through the middle for the East's second touchdown. Bill Bewley of Montreal converted the East's last touchdown. Hamilton's Cam Fraser, Canada's top punter, booted a long single for the East's other point.

Vic Chapman of B.C. was credited with two singles conceded by the East.

SUMMARY

FIRST QUARTER
1. East, touchdown (McDougall).
2. East, single (Fraser).

SECOND QUARTER
3. East, touchdown (Gilchrist).
4. East, touchdown (McDougall).
5. East, convert (Bewley).

THIRD QUARTER
6. West, single (Chapman).

FOURTH QUARTER
7. West, single (Chapman).

FISCAL HIGHLIGHTS

OTTAWA (CP)—Highlights of Finance Minister Donald Fleming's fiscal statement to the Commons Friday night:

Revenues for 1957-58 fiscal year estimated at $5,144,000,000, with tax cuts of $26,000,000 from the $5,170,000,000 forecast by the Liberal government.

Expenditures for 1957-58 fiscal year estimated at $5,064,000,000 compared with Liberal estimate of $5,018,000,000 in last spring's budget.

Surplus for 1957-58 fiscal year now forecast at $80,000,000, compared with spring budget forecast of $132,000,000.

No increases in taxes.

Room, board and transportation allowances to workers on away-from-home construction sites to be tax-free.

Personal income tax exemption for dependents increased $100, effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Rate of tax on first $1,000 of taxable income reduced to 11 per cent from 13 per cent; rate on second $1,000 reduced to 14 per cent from 16 per cent.

'BEAM KNOCKED HIM OFF'

Man's Death Plunge From Span Watched by Horrified Brother

VANCOUVER (CP)—A young steelworker described today how he turned his eyes away in horror while his brother fell 95 feet to his death from the Second Narrows Bridge here.

Albert Bearchell, 28, of New Westminster, B.C., died several hours after slipping off a high beam on the bridge while working with his brother Friday.

Mr. Bearchell, stepfather of four children, formerly lived in Edmonton.

Russian Claims Extend to Province

Russia today made a formal claim that the remnants of the Sputnik I first stage rocket fell over Alaska or northern British Columbia, but if it did no one in authority here or in the United States knows about it.

Nor is there any confirmation that any fragments of it have been located.

A spokesman for the RCN Pacific Command said here today no reports of finding rocket remnants had been received.

"If it had been located, we would have been notified," he said.

An army spokesman in Vancouver confirmed the naval statement.

Edward Argyle, electronic expert on the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, said it was possible that the rocket could have fallen in northern B.C. "But there is no physical evidence of it," he said.

A London report from Reuters today states the Russian news agency Tass says the carrier rocket fell "on the territory of Alaska and on the western coast of North America."

The agency, in a statement following the claim Friday by Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev that the rocket fell on United States territory Dec. 1, said:

"According to available data the remnants of the third stage carrier rocket fell on the territory of Alaska and on the western coast of North America."

Tass' statement that rocket remnants came down on the west coast could mean the Alaska Panhandle, British Columbia or both.

As it traversed this course the carrier rocket of Sputnik I began to enter the denser layers of the atmosphere, to burn and to destroy itself."

Burned and Destroyed Itself

Tass said "data obtained by observation on the carrier rocket of the first artificial satellite of the earth have made it possible to establish that towards midnight on Nov. 30 the period of rotation round the earth of the rocket began to diminish appreciably and it began to lose height."

"A particularly intensive loss of height took place on Dec. 1 as the rocket was passing over the areas of Irkutsk, the Chukotka Peninsula and Alaska and farther along the western coast of America."

"As it traversed this course the carrier rocket of Sputnik I began to enter the denser layers of the atmosphere, to burn and to destroy itself."

U.S. Moon-Launching Flop Jeered Loudest By British

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States sited the ashes of its fallen earth satellite rocket today, seeking a way to recoup its heavy loss in the scientific cold war.

President Eisenhower ordered the defence department to give him a full account of what happened and why. The president was described as being "disappointed."

So was the man in charge of Project Vanguard, Dr. John Hagen of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington who today studied films of the ill-fated satellite launching Friday at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The report Hagen makes will go to Eisenhower. Then doubtless it will be revealed in some form to the American people.

Some diplomats in Washington felt the U.S. satellite failure made it imperative that Eisenhower attend the Paris meeting of NATO heads of government. But it was still up to the president's doctors to say whether he was recovered enough from

Labor War Not Our Aim, Say Unions

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Both the AFL-CIO and the exiled International Brotherhood of Teamsters disclaimed any intent today of starting a labor war in the wake of the truck union's expulsion on corruption charges.

The action came after AFL-CIO President George Meany charged the teamsters never have lifted a finger to clean up alleged corrupt conditions that have swirled around president-elect James Hoffa and other teamsters bosses.

Meany said the federation's door will remain open for return of the teamsters as soon as the truckers' union gets rid of Hoffa.

"There is no plan at all for a war with the teamsters and we hope it will never come," Meany said.

HOUSE GIVES PEARSON NOBEL PRIZE SENDOFF

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons today gave Lester B. Pearson a warm sendoff for his journey to Oslo, Norway, to receive the Nobel peace prize.

Stanley Knowles, deputy CCF leader, suggested that the former Liberal external affairs minister be offered the good wishes of the House through Speaker Roland Michener.

There was applause. Speaker Michener said he was sure this applause clearly showed members' feelings toward their distinguished colleague.

NATO Support Asked by Dutch

PARIS (CP)—The Netherlands asked the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's council today to support a Dutch complaint to the United Nations about developments in Indonesia, where Dutch citizens are being expelled.

Dr. Eelco van Kleffens, Dutch permanent delegate to the council, said after an emergency meeting that the council took the idea under consideration and referred the Indonesian situation to member governments.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian employees took over the three largest Dutch banks in downtown Jakarta today despite a government ban on unauthorized seizures of Dutch enterprises.

A union leader said the Dutch public library and Dutch diplomatic mission libraries in Jakarta also were taken over this morning.

The Indonesian government has ordered most of the 46,000 Dutch residents to get out immediately, leaving behind most of their property. The order was issued Friday as part of a campaign to wrest West New Guinea from The Netherlands.

A source close to the government said diplomatic relations with The Netherlands will be broken off very soon.
